BROCKTON FACING ONE OF WORST LABOR CRISES IN HISTORY—SHOE STRIKE SPREADS

BROCKTON, May 18.—Brockton is facing one of the worst labor crises in its history today, resulting from the walkout of shoemakers and clerks at the Brockton Public Market this morning.

Augmented by the striking dressers and packers, Brockton's total striking population now numbers over 2,200 shoe-workers in addition to the 30 clerks. Unless an immediate settlement is effected, it is probable that about 22,000 workers in the many factories will be idle Monday.

The labor situation here is tense. Other unions may follow the lead of the now three striking unions. Every branch of the shoe-making craft in the city has more or less strained relations with the B. & S. W. U. general headquarters, cutters and stitchers, the three big locals of the city, remain at work but the strike sentiment grows every hour.

Dissatisfaction over decisions handed down recently by the state board of arbitration may cause a general strike in the city, it is feared, by shoe manufacturers.

The walkout of the shoemakers and packers paralyzed shoe production in the way from the making room.

Very few shoes have been shipped the past few days, and after what shoes remain in the packing room are taken out of the way, the industry here will be completely tied up.

HIGH SCHOOL DRILL ON SOUTH COMMON

The annual "knock-out" or elimination drill of the Lowell high school regiment is being held this afternoon on the South common.

The members of the regiment assembled in the drill shed at 2 o'clock in full dress uniform and at a few minutes after 2 o'clock they formed in company formation and headed by their school band, marched to the South common. The parade attracted considerable attention and much favorable comment was heard on all sides for the neat appearance of the boys in their khaki uniforms.

Arriving at the common, the companies immediately started in on the elimination contest, with the companies appearing before the judges in the following order: A, C, E, D, K, B, G, H, I, and J. Each company gave an exhibition of marching tactics, rifle drill and Butts Manual. Out of the ten companies drilling today, three will be named to take part in the Field Day prize drill which will be held on the South common one week from today, weather permitting. The company drill will not be completed until after five o'clock.

Following this drill, the contestants for the individual prize drill, number 150, will appear before the judges in squads of 10 or 15 and give an exhibition of marching and rifle drill. This number will be decided down to about 15 who will be eligible to compete for the individual prizes on Field day.

The judges for the drill are Maj. Percival Wilson, O.R., Capt. Geo. F. Enright, Battery 1st M.N.I., and Capt. George Crowell 18th Infantry, M.N.I. Major Colby Kittredge, instructor of the regiment, is in charge of the regiment and James P. Conway, faculty manager, assisted by one of the girls from the commercial department of the school, will tabulate the judges' findings so that no delay will be experienced in naming the winners of the drill.

A large number of spectators viewed the drill from the grassy slopes along the side of the common. Many of these firmly believing that they get a better opportunity to watch the boys at their best at the knockout-drill than they do at the Field day exercises. The girls' battalion did not hold any drill today but will hold a dress rehearsal on the common next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL IS IN CLASS "A"

Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school has just received a certificate from the State Board of Education classifying the Lowell High school as a "Class A" institution of learning. This classification means that graduates of the school are eligible for entrance to the state normal schools. He has also received a classification certificate from the New England College Entrance board which makes graduates of the school eligible for entrance into New England colleges subject to each college's requirements.

73 DEAD AND MANY INJURED

Panic Seized Audience of 300 as Lamp Explodes at Climax of Play

Concerted Rush for Single Exit—Weight of Mass Causes Stairs to Collapse

Scores Hurlled in Tangled Mass, Many of Whom Were Crushed to Death

NEARLY EVERY HOME IN COUNTRY AFFECTED BY DISASTER—Many People Trampled

CAMDEN, S. C., May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Tragedy, stalking in the wake of comedy, today had turned Kershaw county into a county of mourning.

As the aftermath of a commencement play of the Cleveland school, eight miles from here, more than 73 persons, including whole families, are dead, with one person missing.

Oil Lamp Explodes
As the play reached its climax, an oil lamp on the stage was overturned and exploded. In an instant the stage was a mass of flames. Panic seized the audience of 300 parents, brothers, sisters and relatives of the graduating class, came to honor the youngsters that had crowded the little auditorium.

There was a concerted rush for the single exit that led to a narrow wooden stairway. The weight of the mass was too much for the steps and they collapsed, hurling scores in a tangled mass, numbers being crushed to death.

In a breath, it seemed to persons who escaped, the entire building was wrapped in flames. And within an hour, the building was little more than a heap of smoldering ashes, the funeral pyre of more than three and a half score of Kershaw county citizens.

Every Home in Country Affected
Nearly every home in Kershaw county was affected by the disaster. Many Camden people had gone to witness the playlet and some of them are numbered among the victims. Five injured are in the hospital here, but all are too badly hurt to talk about it.

The Cleveland school is located in the center of a fertile section, but sparsely populated. The road leading to the scene is little more than a one-way path, along the edge of a plowed field.

Women and Children Trampled
In the panic which followed the explosion, little effort apparently was made to fight the flames which quickly communicated to the day theater of the little 40-foot frame school building. Mothers with children in their arms were trampled under foot. Young and old alike for exit.

When the stairway collapsed, many were impaled on the jagged beams, and others were pinned down by the weight of bodies above them. Those who had made their way out of the building, turned at once to aid the victims, but they found little opportunity to do so, the only exit except windows being cut off.

Seeing the hopelessness of their position, a number of persons leaped from the windows, building beams bent and other injuries. Several mothers buried their children in their hands below.

COLLEGE BOYS IN WILD RIOT

U. of Penn. Students Celebrating "Heyday" Defied Police Orders to Disperse

Officers Draw Revolvers and Fire Shots Into Air But Revellers Refuse to Move

Clash Follows—Trolley and Motor Traffic Disrupted—Property Damaged

PHILADELPHIA, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—The vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania campus was the scene of wild rioting early today, when undergraduates, celebrating "Heyday" defied police orders to disperse, and battled with the authorities. Several students were injured before the disturbance was quelled.

Two thousand students were in the streets for the annual celebration which marks the advance of all undergraduate students and seniors for the first time down the cap and gown.

Hurling milk bottles and other missiles while in snake dance formation, the revellers caused considerable property damage, and trampled residents of the campus vicinity. Trolley and motor traffic was completely disrupted, when a riot was sent in and a special detachment of police arrived.

They drew revolvers and fired shots into the air but could not disperse the rioters until a police lieutenant and a senior student had calmed them in speeches and induced them to return to their homes. Six were arrested.

CHARLES H. COSGROVE DIES IN ALASKA

Word was received in Lowell today of the death in Ketchikan, Alaska, of Charles H. Cosgrove, native of this city and for a number of years after his school days and until he left to settle in the west in about the year 1900, was prominent in city affairs and was looked upon as a remarkably able and promising young man. His age was about 32 years. His family owned considerable property in Merrimack street where the old Tremont house formerly stood and the Cosgrove home was located there.

Charles H. Cosgrove was graduated from Lowell high school and Holy Cross college with high distinction, winning practically all of the scholastic honors in his class. Later he graduated from Boston University law school and while there was a classmate of John P. Barry. A close and intimate friendship existed from this association and Mr. Barry today learned with regret of his death.

In 1897 and 1898 Mr. Cosgrove served in the city government as an alderman and less than three years later decided to seek success in the west. He went to Seattle, Wash., and after several years was promoted to a grammar school in that city. His opportunities in Alaska and moved on to Ketchikan where he resumed the practice of law, specializing with marked success in mining litigation. He also was interested in mining claims and inventions.

He is survived by a wife three sons and a daughter. A brother, John H. Cosgrove of Quincy, and a sister, Mrs. Kenneth A. Fales of Manchester, N. H.

After funeral services in Ketchikan, the body was taken to Seattle for burial.

OLD MAN TELLS COURT HE WAS ROBBED OF $4000 AT FORT HILL PARK

Sarkis Apkarian, aged 75 years, appearing as defendant in a non-support case in the district court this morning, told Judge Enright, through an interpreter, that he "went on a drunk" about three weeks ago and fell asleep in Fort Hill park with $4000 in his pocket, and awoke to discover that the money was missing. This startling revelation was made following the testimony of the defendant that he was "drunk" despite the fact that he had $4000 in his possession until his fatal commotion with the beverage that sent him from his bank-roll.

The complainant in the case, Apkarian's wife, 63 years old, said she and her husband have been living in this city for 11 years. For the past seven months, she said, she has been living with her aunt, while the husband has resided with his son by a former marriage, in Charles street. The couple lived together with the son for some time, the woman said, but frequent quarreling led to the disruption of the union, and the son, with the consent of the 75-year-old husband, ordered her to leave the house. Since then she has been living with her aunt, and on a finding of guilty, the case was continued one week for sentence.

Apkarian told the court that he worked steadily in Lawrence until the strike there a year ago, when he came to Lowell and contracting sickness. He took up his abode with his wife and son in Charles street. He never fully recovered from the effects of his sickness, he said, and could not return to work. Drawing $2000 from one Lawrence bank and $2000 from another, he continued to carry it around with him in his own personal safety vault, his pocket, and managed to hold onto it until the Fort Hill incident. He was asked if he told Miss Skilton, local policeman, or Mrs. Kludjian, a social worker, that he gave the money to his son, who is now well established in a prosperous business in Boston. He denied that he made such a statement, vigorously contending that the Fort Hill story was the true one. The court ruled differently, and on a finding of guilty, the case was continued one week for sentence.

NANCE O'NEIL TO APPEAR AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Nance O'Neil, whose name and fame as an actress are household words in Lowell and will appear at the opera house next week with the play, "The Passion Flower." Miss O'Neil and her husband, Alfred Hickman, are staying at Cole's Inn while in Lowell and plan to conduct a number of the play with the stock company now at the opera house either today or tomorrow.

Miss O'Neil is a Californian by birth, but claims to be partly of New England descent. Her father was born in Massachusetts and lived in Lowell part of his youth. Her mother was a Southerner and she herself was born in San Francisco. It was in San Francisco that she made her first appearance on the stage many years ago, but not until she went to New York that she really became known as an actress.

For the past three years she has been playing "The Passion Flower," a play translated from the Spanish. One season of this was spent in New York, three months in Chicago, and the remainder of the time touring the country from New Orleans to Montreal. In Lowell, having played here on two previous occasions several years ago, Miss O'Neil has several friends to find with the American stage, however.

One is the lack of good directors. Another is the lack of participating in the play for two or three seasons, and she says that the best advice she can give to anyone who wishes to become an actress is to get into some stock company that has a good director, so that part in different characterizations, not just one as is usual when in a play that has a long run.

Miss O'Neil owned a country home in the town of North Andover, Mass., for about eight years ago when she left Boston, and she finds Lowell very familiar because of the many changes that have been made during her absence.

NEW PROFESSOR AT HARVARD
CAMBRIDGE, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Dr. S. P. Largent of the United States Geological Survey has been appointed professor of petrography at Harvard, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Prof. John D. Diller. Dr. Largent is an active teacher at the close of this academic year. Dr. Largent is at present assistant in charge of the section of petrology of the Geological Survey. He is a graduate of the University of California.

For several years the school has been given a bad reputation because employers used to boys who said that they completed courses at the Vocational school, who in fact were forced to leave the school because they could not qualify in their subjects. This opinion has changed, however, Mr. Fisher believes, and the school is now taking the place it rightly should hold in industrial circles in the city.

Bandits in New Attack

SILANGHAI, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Chinese bandits last night attacked Tawenkon, a town 90 miles north of Lincheng, and seized a number of captives, according to a report received here.

SILANGHAI, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Lloyd Lehrbas, an American newspaperman, who was on the Shanghai-Peking express train wrecked by bandits near Suichow 12 days ago, but who escaped before the foreign captives were taken into the Shanghai hills, has arrived in Shanghai with the prediction that unless there are unforeseen developments, the prisoners will be released in 10 days or two weeks.

He quoted Marcel Oliver Berube, the French captive, who was in "Poon" being on a brief "parole" from the bandit stronghold, as saying: "I am satisfied that on the one slightest auspicious move on our part or by the Chinese troops, the bandits will kill one or two of us, and send out

the bodies."

Lehrbas intends to return to Tsoochwang shortly. Negotiations with the bandits are proceeding, he said, with everything possible being done. Communications to the foreign hostages will be forwarded from Tsoochwang to the new and more remote camp of the bandits, Lehrbas added. Regarding the censorship, he explained that delays in the transmission of telegrams from Tsoochwang was due chiefly to the single wire, manned by a 60-year-old operator, who had to handle loads of official messages, principally to and from Peking.

SOUTHERN MILL MEN

Agree on Undesirability of Influx of Northern Labor of Foreign Extraction

RICHMOND, Va., May 18.—Southern textile manufacturers are agreed on the "extreme undesirability" of any influx of northern labor of foreign extraction, W. D. Adams, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association declared yesterday in his annual report.

"Our industry is growing so rapidly within itself," he said, "that while today we may have a sufficiency of native help, the day is not far distant in the judgment of many when there will be a scarcity if not an actual dearth. Any considerable accretion from without to the southern industry, with consequent demands upon our native labor supply, would probably result in a shortage for which there would be but one solution from the standpoint of the northern mill and that would be to bring in outside help—and the one thing that we are all definitely agreed on is the extreme undesirability of any influx whatsoever of northern labor of foreign extraction."

MINSTREL SHOW MEMBERS BANQUETED

Lowell Grange, 335, tendered a banquet and reception to the members of the minstrel show who took part in the Grange show held recently, at the Highland hall last night. General dancing followed the appetizing meal, which was much enjoyed by the amateur performers.

The committee in charge of the reception was headed by Worthy Lecturer Nellie B. Farnham as chairman and was as follows: Alice Kittredge, Blanche Jolley, Edith Carpenter, Amy Farley, Mary O'Neill, Martha Blackely, Jennie Jones, Mabel La Pointe, Ida Kaneuf, and Edward La Pointe.

The principals in the cast, and the members of the chorus, who were the guests of the Grange, were: John Powers, James Jones, Eva Lewis, Louise Russell, Leon Wells, Margaret Shea, James Kennedy, Maudie Chandler, Charles Clancy, Gladys Ireland, Bertha Choquette, William Powers, William McGrath, Marion Kennedy, Lowe, Margery Wells and Richard Sousa.

In the chorus were Misses Gertrude Tridner, Blanche Hibbard, Elsie Hildner, Marcelle Rhea, Doris Dean Hildner, Dorothy Spencer, Helen Hovey, Michael Holmes, Annie Holland, Mary Hume, Katherine McElroy, Alice Pabent, Katherine Choquette, Mildred Wells, and George Redding. Raymond Kennedy, Eugene Paquette, Percy Knight, Walter Choquette, Scott Hume and Robert Ganley.

Rev. J. P. Kennedy, D.D., was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., held at the Association building this afternoon.

CLERGYMEN PAID LESS THAN DITCH DIGGERS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Declaring that the compensation of Presbyterian ministers is less, on the average, than that of ditch diggers, and that this situation is a moral and economic crime, Will H. Hays, speaking as an elder of the Presbyterian church at its annual assembly here last night, launched a drive to add $15,000,000 to the ministers' pension fund.

The address of the president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America and former republican national committee chairman was delivered at the popular meeting, which closed the first day's work of the 181 assembly commissioners, representing 301 presbyteries and 22 foreign missions.

Mr. Hays declared the question of ministers' salaries is an economic problem of the utmost gravity and that the present lack of worldly compensation is the reason for the dearth of young men candidates for the Christian ministry.

"Religion," Mr. Hays said, "is the one essential industry in the world. Without the perpetuity of the church, he declared, the republic would die."

"Ministers," he continued, "make certain the security of property, for if men cease to believe in God, they cease to respect property. If we would have the church of Jesus Christ preserved as the holding thread in our moral, social and economic fabric and the one impelling element of causation to our progress; if we are to progress we must take hold of this matter of the underpaid preachers and adjust it."

SUPERIOR COURT
The case of Thornton England vs. Samuel Brickman, an action of tort by which the plaintiff seeks to recover for damages to his automobile as a result of a collision between his car and that of the defendant in May 1921, which was started at the civil session of the superior court yesterday, was resumed this morning. It was stated this morning that the case may be brought to a close this afternoon.

BONAR LAW CONSULTED SPECIALIST IN PARIS

PARIS, May 18.—(By the Associated Press) Andrew Bonar Law, the British prime minister, visited Paris for medical as well as political consultation says the Journal today. The British statesman, the newspaper adds, saw the specialist, Sir Thomas Forster, a physician in the London Cancer hospital, who came over from London to make an examination.

The physician found that the premier's vacation had resulted in no improvement to his throat; in fact the loss of voice is to complete that he was obliged to refuse Forster's invitation to lunch and dine at the foreign office.

The Journal says that after a conference with Lord Beaverbrook, Mr. Bonar Law plans to return to France to try a new cure at Aix-les-Bains.

The prospective interview with Lord Beaverbrook, the newspaper adds, portends a change in the British ministry.

TENDERED RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR

Rev. Willard A. Kilmer, formerly of the West Pittsburg M. E. church, and recently appointed pastor of the Centralville M. E. church, was tendered a reception in the church vestry last night by the members of his congregation, under the direction of the Ladies Aid society. Rev. Mr. Kilmer, who succeeded Rev. Karl P. Meister, has occupied the Centralville pastorate since April 1, but the reception was delayed because of repairs being done in the parish house.

The reception hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. Rev. and Mrs. Kilmer and family received the members of the congregation in front of the stage. The pastor was assisted in the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garmon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gill and Everett, Clarence and Thourban Kilmer.

Among the guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Leslie C. Boekes, of the Church of All Nations, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Otto of the St. Paul's L. E. church, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kennedy of the Highland Union church, and Rev. and Mrs. Charles D. Piper, of the Fifth Street Baptist church.

HALTS SOLICITATION OF LABOR IN SOUTH

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18.—Gov. McLeod yesterday called upon sheriffs in the state to enforce the law prohibiting the solicitation of labor in South Carolina, except upon the payment of the heavy license fees.

The fee required of labor agents is $500 for the state and $200 for each county in which the solicitor proposes to operate.

The governor's letter was prompted by the activity of agents who have been soliciting negro labor for northern and eastern industrial cities.

Amazed After Using Zonite On Badly Infected Wound

Took World War Antiseptic Only Four Days To Start Granulation On Burn That Refused To Heal

The famous Carrel-Dakin Solution drove infection from the war hospitals of the Allies when all known germicides had failed.

Zonite is this form of antiseptic prepared for household use. It has supplanted poisonous burning or weak, inefficient antiseptics in thousands of American homes.

The following letter is from Mrs. Ruth McManus, 1655 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

"My little daughter burned her hand severely and for several weeks the burn refused to heal. It grew into a nasty wound, discharging pus constantly, although I tried several antiseptics on it."

"I read of Zonite and began to use it. To my amazement the second day I saw that the discharge had stopped and a red healing surface was coming on the wound. After four days, granulation and a new surface skin began to appear. Today there is not even a scar left to tell where the burn was."

The above letter indicates what the World War antiseptic is accomplishing in days of peace for the minor infections that occur in every home. Such infections may have serious consequences if not promptly checked. Zonite is powerful, non-poisonous, non-irritating and healing. It can be used freely on delicate membranes and tissues of the human body without harm.

FROM THE TWILIGHT TO THE WITCHING HOUR

Joseph Duffy, pitcher-manager of the K. of C. baseball team, not satisfied with glory and fame in athletics has turned to dramatics to win more laurels. He will appear in the cast which is to present "The Witching Hour" next Monday evening in the Lowell Opera House, the proceeds from which are to be used in defraying expenses for the new Knights of Columbus headquarters in Union street. "Joe" will play the part of Lew Ellinger an "I should worry" professional gambler who in thirty years has lost $200,000. The funny thing about Ellinger is that he finds a man who can read the thoughts of others and sees an opportunity of using this man in a "game in Chinatown" where it would be like taking candy away from a baby. It makes Lew feel pretty small, however, when he learns he has been playing his head off many times against a man who is able to read the thoughts of others. People are assured of seeing the part of Lew Ellinger well acted for "Joe" will play it just as well as he plays baseball.

U. S. THREATENS

DRASTIC ACTION

TSAO-SHIWANG, Province of Shantung, China, May 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Get the foreign captives out of the grip of the Suchow bandits and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action," was the ultimatum laid down to Chinese government officials here late yesterday by Dr. Jacob C. Schurman, American minister to China.

The American diplomat, who stopped off here on his way from Shanghai to Peking, told Chinese officials who are congregated here to negotiate with the bandits that unless the foreign prisoners are released immediately serious international complications would result. "And the delays and confusion between various departments of the government," he said, "Get the captives out and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action taken."

Relations between the Chinese government and the representatives of foreign countries is described on all hands as "strained" as a result of the bandit situation.

Dr. Schurman kept in constant cable communication with Washington during his stay in Shanghai.

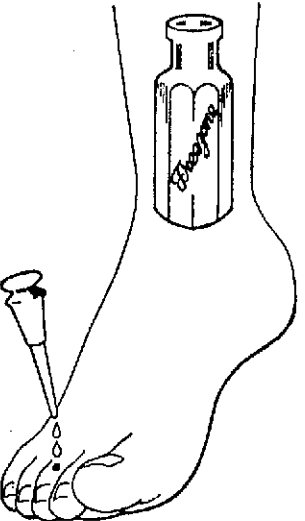

J. B. Powell and other captives have sent word from their mountain prison that all the prisoners are beginning to feel the strain. Some are ill from insufficient and unaccustomed food. Others, forced to make new marches, with their feet unhealed from the bruises and cuts of the rocky trail from the scene of the hold-up near Suchow, are suffering intensely.

The bandits charge that the Chinese troops have not been withdrawn, despite official assertions to the contrary. This apparently constitutes the greatest hitch to the negotiations for the captives' release.

Queen of Siam is said to have the most valuable fumble in the world—one made of pure gold and studded with diamonds.

MAP SHOWING THE COURSE FOLLOWED BY AMUNDSEN IN THE MAUD, AS REPORTED BY RADIO, AND INSET, SOREN SYVERTSEN, THE RADIO OPERATOR.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS FOLLOWED BY WIRELESS

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, May 17.—Out of Spitzbergen, northernmost habitable point on the globe, come wireless reports of the progress of the Amundsen Arctic expedition across the north pole. Before the days of radio, folks at home waited months and even years before any word came in from such out of the way places as the Arctic and Antarctic regions. Now, thanks to the new space and time destroying science, Amundsen is able to keep in touch with the world from his ship, the Maud, wherever he might be.

Sitting at the transmitting instruments, Soren Syvertsen, Amundsen's radio expert, is able to report the Maud's movements through the permanent wireless station at Spitzbergen. At Washington, the United States weather bureau gets these reports after they have been relayed from Spitzbergen through Kristiana and Paris to the naval station across the Potomac.

Course Traced
Thus, by being in constant touch by wireless, the scientists here can trace the course of the Maud across the pole. Thus far she is shown to have covered approximately two-fifths of the distance to the pole, according to Edward H. Bowler, chief forecaster of the weather bureau, who has studied the Amundsen wireless reports.

"The drift apparently is carrying the Maud westward above the north coast of Siberia," Bowler says. "That radio communication is now by way of Spitzbergen instead of Nome does not however, mean that she is closer to Spitzbergen, but that means for relaying the messages via Kristiana are much better.

"The Spitzbergen station, which is an outpost for weather observations, in communication twice daily with Kristiana. In a direct line the Maud's position, when last reported, was just under 1000 miles from the pole. The distance covered from Nome would be about 700 to 800 miles."

Short Messages

The slow progress of the expedition apparently has been without serious incident to date, as the reports merely give the position of the vessel and a laconic "all well."

Whether the Maud's progress is altogether due to the movement of an ice field in which she is frozen fast, or whether she has had open water in which partially to stage her own course are unknown. The intention of Captain Amundsen was to lie up for the winter near Wrangel Island, permit his vessel to freeze fast in the ice and then to drift pole-wards with the ice field. His theory is that the ice fields above northeastern Siberia are carried gradually northward and across the pole.

Scientists charting the movement of the Maud, as reported by the occasional wireless messages from Spitzbergen, are particularly interested in the radio-ly and made of the movement that

FOR AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Big Drive Started for Agricultural Fair Here—Library Hall Meeting

The members of the Lowell Driving club held a meeting in Library hall, Memorial Auditorium, last evening, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of conducting an old-fashioned agricultural fair at Golden Cove park on Aug. 30-31 and Sept. 1. The attendance was not very large, but those present were all very enthusiastic over the proposition to revive the fair that in past years so ably and successfully conducted by the old Middlesex North Agricultural society, among the most enthusiastic for such an event in this city in the fall was Congressman John Jacob Rogers, who stated that a fair would not only be beneficial to those interested in agriculture, but to those in business, while at the same time it would be good advertising.

A larger attendance was expected, to be sure, but other attractions in the city and the ideal weather prevented a great many from being present. The meeting was presided over by Hon. Arthur W. Coburn, a former state senator, whose home is in Dracut, and in his opening address he explained in detail the plans of the club, namely to conduct an open fair that would last four days. He also stated that farmers and producers of this city and neighboring towns will be asked to provide some exhibit, and of course, the old style horse race would be one of the features of the event. Mr. Coburn deplored the fact that the hall was not filled with friends of the organization, but he said he realized that the evening was a most pleasant one for an outdoor walk or ride.

He introduced as the first speaker, Congressman Rogers, who, he said, was always interested in any movement beneficial to the community at large. Mr. Rogers said he would not attempt to qualify as an agricultural expert nor as a judge of horses, but he said he was very much interested in agricultural fairs. His address was in part as follows:

"No one can fail to believe in the idea of the county fair. Whenever one goes throughout the length and breadth of the country, Brockton is known for two things—its fair and its shoes. These things have advertised the city. But this is not the essential thing. The essential value of the agricultural fair is that it brings to the viewpoint of the people in the city and the viewpoint of the people in the country. One realizes this in attending these affairs when they are held throughout our state.

"Personally I have had my eyes opened to the viewpoint of the people in the country, when I make my trips to see my constituents in the congressional district which I represent. I do this when there is no summer session of congress and I have found that there is many times a real reason behind differences in opinion, that we of the city cannot understand. There is at present a wide divergence of views on daylight saving in the city and the country. We of the city are in favor of conservation of game laws, so that we can enjoy our Saturday hunting in the country at certain seasons, but just the other day, a farmer told me that the partridge are eating all the blossoms of his trees and he can do nothing about it, because the law protects the partridges. There are many cases like this. The two viewpoints must be reconciled through mutual understanding, for neither one can live without the other.

"The chance for mingling is a wholesome thing. Agricultural fairs in New England will number just twice as many this year as they did in 1920 which shows that the demand for them is growing. We all recall the palm days of the Middlesex North fairs at the old Fair Grounds and of the great crowds that came from all over the county and state.

"In the country-at-large we hear of the so-called 'Agricultural Blood' or the agricultural value of the wheat that have organized to put across their particular aims. The farmers of the western states have learned that they must have organization like the industrial states to accomplish their ends and things for both these elements to realize is the main thing, and you cannot separate one section of the country from the other.

"Although speaking-making at fairs is pretty hard work, I think that emphasis should be made of the unification of like to ask every one to do his best to see that we have an old-fashioned agricultural fair that will be a success in every way."

Mr. Trask of Waltham
Robert Trask, of Waltham, connected with the Agricultural extension, whose work brings him in various parts of the state, was the next speaker and he said an agricultural fair is an institution of great value. "In olden days," he said, "a fair's big drawing card was the horse race, but today the exhibition of agricultural products is of greater importance. These fairs should be more in the line of education." The speaker then pointed out the excellent agricultural work that is being done throughout the state by school children and he said he believed a fair properly conducted in Lowell would be a big success. Again referring to the school children, Mr. Trask said over 300 of them in this vicinity are enrolled in extension work and they are seeking an opportunity to exhibit their products in the fall. He concluded by saying that there was no question in his mind about the success of a fair in Lowell.

Deputy Commissioner

The last speaker of the evening was Leslie R. Smith, deputy commissioner of agriculture in this state, who repeated his illustrated lecture on agricultural exhibitions given before the Lowell Driving club at its annual banquet a couple of months ago. In the course of his remarks Mr. Smith took occasion to compliment the city of Lowell on its beautiful Memorial Auditorium, which he said a second time to come to New England and perhaps in the entire country.

Mr. Smith spoke interestingly on fairs that have been conducted in various parts of the state during the past two years and as well on the screen interesting and enjoyable pictures taken at these various events. He told particularly stress upon the agricultural building that was erected and is being maintained by the state in Springfield, while his views of American agricultural colleges, a state institution were most pleasing. The speaker injected a few stories in his talk and his address proved very instructive and entertaining.

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside

External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is internal circulation.
The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of the cause is inside—bad circulation, send a fresh current through stagnant parts. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. A. Lombard, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROD and tried it in 1900 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Green's drug store which will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer—Ad.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

A RADIO MESSAGE

THE TINKER MAN LIFTED THE LID OFF A BIG BOX

"Sh!" said the Tinker Man softly. "What is it?" whispered Nancy and Nick, creeping up as quietly as two little mice and as curious as two little squirrels.

The Tinker Man lifted the lid off a big box that had just come to Bang-Bang Land, then stepped it right on again.

But not before the Twins had time to see rows and rows of brand-new tin soldiers with helmets on their heads and rifles in their hands.

"I don't want them to hear," whispered the Tinker Man. "I don't want these new soldiers to know that there is a war going on here, for they would jump right out of the box and go to help their comrades."

"Why don't you let them go?" asked Nick. "If one side wins then the war will be over."

"Oh, but don't you know that all the tin soldiers in Bang-Bang Land are for Christmas presents? A nice lot there will be if they keep on shooting each other's arms and legs off. No, sir! I'll just lay this box away carefully and not let these soldiers out at all. Then I'll have at least a few new ones for Santa that don't need patching."

Just then the radio on his table went bang-bang-her-her-her.

Nick put the tin soldier over his ears to get the message.

"It's General Hobblesby, talking," he said. "He wants to know if his other tin soldiers have come yet. He says to write to the Toy Maker."

SOCIAL BY HEBREW DRAMATIC CLUB

The season's final social gathering of the Hebrew Dramatic Club was given in Eagles' hall Wednesday evening and was attended with the same success that other offerings of the club have met with in the past.

The entertainment program opened with an interpretive dance by Miss Doris Conley, who had to respond to an encore. Meyer Arlinsky and Meyer Lipchitz gave an original sketch and Mary Cohen a comic reading entitled "Betty at the Baseball Game."

Max Cohen, president of the club, was the recipient of a brief case, the gift of the club. William Sydenham made the presentation and Mr. Cohen responded fittingly. In the beauty contest held during the evening, Leonard Goldman was the winner with Meyer Arlinsky and Meyer Lipchitz receiving honorable mention.

After the completion of the entertainment program, general dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Several features were put on during the dancing, one of them being an elimination dance which was won by Albert Huitze and Alice Kaplan.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of the Misses Sandlar, Malkiel, Klegerman and Meyer Arlinsky.

Kensington has a larger proportion of women to men than any other London district, with 1584 women to every 1000 men.

Rheuma Acts on Kidneys, Liver and Bladder the Very First Day

Get a bottle of Rheuma today and wear a satisfied smile on your face tomorrow.

It's a remedy that is astonishing the whole country, and it's just as good for gout, sciatica, lumbago and kidney misery as for rheumatism.

It drives the poisonous waste from the joints and muscles, that's the secret of Rheuma's success. And we don't ask you to take our word for it, go to Green's drug store or any good druggist and get a bottle, and if it doesn't do as we promise get your money back. It will be there waiting for you.—Adv.

Former Governor of Biscay Assassinated

LEON, Spain, May 18.—Fernando Regueral, former governor of the province of Biscay, was assassinated last evening as he was leaving his home. A band of men, none of whom was identified, shot him to death and then escaped. Regueral was governor of Biscay during the period terrorism prevailed in Spain, and it is thought that his stern measures against syndicalism culminated in his murder by members of that faction.

Broncho-Busting Beauty Gets Into the 'Follies

PEGGY SHANNON

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, May 18.—Now it's the broncho-busting daughter of the plains who's to be our new ideal of beauty. Peggy Shannon is the reason. Peggy, who was born in Pine Bluff, Ark., came east to see the lights. She's here to stay, Flo Ziegfeld's choice of 56 applicants for a vacancy in his chorus. Some say it was her personality. Peggy says it was riding a cow pony, mixed with generous measure of skinning the cat.

"I didn't know it at the time," she says, "but being born in Arkansas is wonderful training for a dancer."

"First, you ride a pony for hours. That gives you poise and rhythm."

"Then you throw a lariat occasionally. That gives you graceful arms."

"Then you keep a sharp lookout for rattlesnakes. That teaches you concentration."

"I did all of these and in addition I used to swim and climb trees and skin the cat."

Sixteen is the age of this newest rival of Venus. Her hair is ruffled, her eyes hazel, she weighs 105 pounds and stands 5 ft. 2 in. in her dancing slippers.

After an hour's effort on the telephone and by special messenger, the city council finally gathered a quorum last night and drew the following five names of men to serve as jurors at the criminal session of the superior court now sitting in Cambridge:

Charles Mason, 21 Bell ave., machinist.
Wm. J. Daly, 29 Warden st., insurance agent.
George W. Allen, 228 East Merrimack street, hotel clerk.

Candidates present were Pres. Gallagher and Frank K. Stearns, Donald M. Conner, Frederick A. Sadler, Thomas McFadden, Daniel P. Moriarty, Arthur B. Chadwick and James P. Hennessy.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

100 Brazilian Rebels Killed in Clash

BUENOS AIRES, May 18.—One hundred Brazilian rebels were killed and many wounded in retreating before state troops in Rio Grande do Sul near Bage yesterday, according to the state newspaper published in Santa Anna de Lavramento. The dispatch was forwarded to this city by La Nacion's Rivera correspondent. The rebels are reported to have abandoned a large quantity of arms and ammunition, as well as all their ambulances, many horses and a cannon. Two of their leaders were captured. The government forces sustained insignificant losses, the dispatch says.

DAILY NEWS RECORD OF APRIL 4

A demand in the clothing stores for two-trouser suits, in many quarters, is taken to indicate curtailed buying in the future. The merchants are not making light of this growing disposition to make one suit serve the purposes of two, and while such ideas are hardly to be encouraged, it is agreed that the clothiers should base their buying on a basis to conform with this new economic stride. People will be in the market less frequently and the retailer's safest course, it is said, will be to sell good clothing at a good price.

The old trouser business necessarily does not call for material to match the coat and vest, although as a rule men seem to prefer trousers with matching striped trousers in color are being sold in the $12 and $15 range and there is no apparent evidence that these prices are too high in consumer estimation. It is believed that the average man's wardrobe contains at least several pairs of trousers that can be drafted for duty to relieve the pressure.

Office workers, particularly, are partial to two-trouser suits, for the reason that their clothes wear out all too soon for the average chair warms income, and as an economic measure the line carries a strong appeal. But this class of customers by no means constitutes the entire constituency of this trade. Many fastidious dressers have ascertained that they can make a better appearance by owning four pairs of trousers in two suits of clothes. For the man who wears a light suit, an extra set of trousers is not a bad idea, and an extra set of trousers is not a bad idea, and an extra set of trousers is not a bad idea.

Figuring also on the growing clientele who wear a neutral sports jacket with one and all sorts of trousers, the extra set of trousers of these a lot is not a bad idea, and an extra set of trousers is not a bad idea, and an extra set of trousers is not a bad idea.

BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE ACCEPTS CITY ENGINEER'S PROGRAM FOR STREET WORK

The acceptance of City Engineer Stephen J. Kearney's revised program of street work for the remainder of the year, subject to certain restrictions in regard to reinforced concrete, and granite block work, was the most important business taken up by the board of public service at its meeting at city hall yesterday afternoon.

This restriction is that reinforced concrete or granite block over concrete roads will not be built in front of vacant lots where service, either water, gas, sewer, electric or anything else that would necessitate the digging up of the street, is not entered upon the property, and the consequence is that "the board accepts the program providing that adjoining property owners will put in their service connections first." As Chairman Murphy said, "If they want good roads they must put in their service first." It was George Hovers who made the suggestion by stating that he objected to voting in favor of any reinforced concrete roadwork being done in front of any vacant lots where service has not been taken first, but he agreed that if the restriction was put on making them take the service even though they do not plan to build at once he would vote for the program's acceptance. He further said that no such a program would be approved by city engineer nowdays would approve such a program without similar restriction, and Mr. Kearney agreed with him.

Chairman Dennis J. Murphy put the question of acceptance up to vote with the restriction added and the vote was unanimously in favor of acceptance.

Chairman Murphy read a letter from the city's employment as temporary storekeeper at the city stables and requesting that as a new eligible list was ready, Mr. Garrity's services be dispensed with. The three top men on the new list were James P. Fitzgerald, of 13 Willie street; Leo T. Robbins and George Birkenhead. As Mr. Fitzgerald is a disabled veteran of the World war and as the law reads that when such a veteran is on the list he must be given preference, the board had no choice. In regard to this appointment, Mr. Murphy stated that there was one matter that should be made clear to all who have anything to do with the city stables. "Eugene P. Toomey," he said, "is the stock-keeper at the stables and he is a very valuable employee. I want it understood that this Mr. Fitzgerald will act under the supervision of Mr. Toomey and that his work will be arranged by the stock-keeper, and I am also sure that Mr. Toomey needs help on this work."

A letter from City Engineer Kearney was read concerning the financial condition of the street department at the present time and the matter was filed. In regard to this matter there was considerable discussion as to the funds on hand for street lighting. In the first four months of the year $17,000 was spent for this purpose and only $88,000 remains to pay lighting bills for the rest of the year. When the appropriation for street lighting was taken up, a sum of $2000 was cut out before the budget was accepted. This $2000, it seems, was absolutely necessary if the new ornamental lights were to be used this year. As the matter now stands, according to Chairman Murphy and the other members of the board, the board of public service will not give orders for the new lights to be turned on until the necessary money is appropriated. This means that all the new lights erected on Lucy Larcom park, and also in other parts of the city, will remain dark until some $2000 is voted to pay the bills that will be incurred by lighting them.

The report of the boiler inspector on the condition of the boilers in the West Sixth street pumping station was read. This report indicated that two of the boilers were in bad condition and should be renewed. Messrs. Bowers and Leary were appointed to inspect these boilers and report at the next meeting of the board.

A Mrs. Robert Carlson of East Chelmsford appeared before the board complaining of an excessive water bill charged against one of her houses. The bill rendered her was $192 and the meter reader who took the readings stated that conditions in the toilets and water exits were bad, and that she had been notified as to their condition. The board granted her a reduction of 50 per cent. on the bill but warned her that it would not do so again.

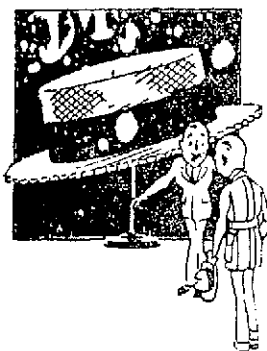

A number of petitions for street and sidewalk improvement were referred for action at a later date.

Frank Stearns, councillor from Ward 1, appeared with several petitions concerning street and sidewalk improvements, mainly on Beacon, Richard and Christian streets. He also spoke of his motion at the last meeting of the city council regarding the Durkee house, and this matter came in for considerable discussion, it being the consensus of opinion that any action towards rebuilding the house would fall on the shoulders of the lands and buildings department, not on the board of public service, as Mr. Stearns suggested. No action was taken but Chairman Murphy struck a responsive chord in saying "Who will take care of it when it is fixed up?" This question remained unanswered and the meeting adjourned at 5:20.

WOMEN MAY BE STRONG

and enjoy life whether in the home or business world if they can keep at bay those ailments peculiar to their sex. If every woman realized how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes such symptoms as backache, headaches, nervousness, and irritability, they would be healthier, happier and stronger. If you suffer from any form of female illness don't you try it? It will pay you to do so.—Adv.

How Can Moller's Sell for Less?

You have probably asked this same question yourself and wondered how it is possible for MOLLER'S to sell for less. The fact is that MOLLER'S can and does sell for less because it is doing business at a lower expense than any other furniture house in the country doing a similar volume of business.

There are several reasons for this:
In the first place, MOLLER'S, while centrally and conveniently located, is just out of the high rent district. Secondly, having a tremendous outlet with two big stores, our buying power enables us to buy in large quantities which, naturally, brings us lower prices. Third, our low overhead, due to our system of conducting business, eliminates all unnecessary expenses. And, fourth, our policy is to satisfy our customers, thereby making MOLLER'S the kind of a store you like to trade with. This increases our volume of business and still further reduces our overhead costs. These savings are all passed along to our customers.

REMEMBER, every piece of furniture carries our guarantee of satisfaction.

LOWELL ADVERTISING CLUB MEETING

The Lowell Advertising club held one of its most largely attended meetings last night in the Girls City club to celebrate the coming of a new president and also to boost Lowell and advertise the Ad club.

The supper was the first important thing to be dealt with and from 5.30 to 7.30 nothing else was thought of. Just as soon as the tables had been cleared, however, Vice-President Robert Wood called upon Horatius Loggier to lead the meeting in community singing. After several selections had been rendered, a double-mixed quartet sang "Yes—We Have No Bananas" several times and graphically illustrated the fact that they had plenty of bananas by throwing them around.

The installation of Edward J. Cooney as president of the club was another feature of the meeting. Mr. Cooney, after certifying his ability to act as president by giving several harmonica solos, was duly installed in the chair and took charge of the meeting.

The first duty that he undertook was to present to Miss Allen Joyce, the retiring secretary of the club, $25 in gold as a token of appreciation from all the members of the Ad club. He also announced that Miss Irene Mathews, an employee of Arthur J. Roux, had been obtained to act as secretary and that her name will be brought up for certification at the next meeting.

Mr. Cooney told of the arrangements being made for the convention of Advertising Clubs at Atlantic City next month and he urged all members of the Lowell club who could possibly get away to attend the convention.

Frank Edward made quite a lengthy appeal for the support of the club for the improvement of the Merrimack river, a hearing on which will be held in Washington next month. The club voted to back this proposition and to notify Congressman Rogers, Lowell's delegate at the hearing of its stand.

Arthur K. Price was then introduced and he gave a very interesting and educational illustrated lecture on China. Mr. Price returned from China but a short time ago and he is thoroughly familiar with affairs going on there now. He praised the country highly and appeared to be very optimistic as to its future regardless of the notoriety it is getting now through the actions of bandits. At the end of the lecture, a rousing vote of thanks was given Mr. Price.

Following the lecture, the chairs were removed from the main floor and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

The Carney Girls' orchestra furnished music during the supper and also for the general dancing.

Garrigues Chapman, editor of the new book, "Woman Suffrage and Politics," threatens to open up the scarcely healed breach between the old and new wings in the National League of Women Voters.

The newer blood in the organization, which for most part has come in since votes for women were secured, wants the organization to "go to the front" and fight for suffrage. Their viewpoint is that now women's right to vote is established all women should be interested in using the ballot intelligently, whether they actually believed in the desirability of equal suffrage or not.

In her book, however, Mrs. Chapman reminds us of old campaign days, says some rather caustic things about the anti-suffragists.

"And for the cause," say the women of the new wing, wagging their heads ominously, and including the lines under the organization's internal political war.

One outstanding holdout, however, is Gus Karger, dean of the active correspondents corps and former publicity advisor to Wm. H. Taft.

"Not me," says Gus, when asked to join the growing colony of golf bugs. "I get my exercise by a daily dog-eared morning. And if any of the club-swimming athletes don't think I'm a good man, here's an open invite to any one of 'em as wants to tackle me."

PAWTUCKET CHURCH

A very pleasant entertainment and supper was put on by the young women of the Pawtucket Congregational church last night in the church vestry and was attended by a large gathering of friends and members of the church. The supper was served at 6:30 under the direction of Miss Ethel Cowdray, assisted by Mrs. Charles Estabrook, Mrs. Frank Cowdray and a score of young women of the church. Following the supper, a playlet entitled "The Two Masters" was put on by members of the missionary class of the church, coached by Miss Louisa Blanchard. Among those taking part in the play were the Misses Florence Cowdray, Mildred Cameron, Esther Douglass, Anna Duren, Mollie Varnum and Viola Hawker.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

A verdict of $125.53 for the plaintiff was rendered yesterday afternoon in the case of Peter de Silva of this city vs. William F. Merrill of Acton, an action of tort by which the plaintiff sought to recover for damages to his automobile as a result of a collision.

The case was tried at the civil session of the superior court.

"The alarm from box 223, at 10:20 o'clock last evening was for a slight automobile fire at the corner of Central and Crosby streets. Earlier in the evening a still alarm was sent in for a blaze on the Alken street dump, while late in the afternoon a telephone alarm was sent in for an awning fire at Liggett's drug store at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets.

Miss Evelyn Beekingham put every ounce of energy into this drive during the play for the singles championship of North London. fore he decided what definitely to do about the beating they gave him after they kidnapped him yesterday.

Apologias from three of the seven who abducted him because they construed as unpatriotic and disloyal a letter he wrote to the Spectator, a Columbia publication, were in his hands last night. It was a joint letter signed by Harry W. Schumacher, of Iowa, a sophomore, and Charles Dana Bennett, of New York and Arthur F. Ackerman, of Passaic, N. J., both juniors.

The trio who apologized said their motives were patriotic but without the due consideration of the others involved. They are members, it is understood, of the reserve officers' training corps.

The names of the other four were not known to Werner. All he knew was that the seven were masked and called him from a room, or perhaps a closet, and snatched him, and took him out to the country where they beat him with sticks and ironed staves after they had put him through a cruel examination on loyalty to the nation.

and told his captors so. He also is an English teacher in Pennsylvania State college and a graduate of Muhlenberg college of Allentown. He came to Columbia for a doctor's degree and interested himself in the activities of the student body.

Some time ago, groups of students in dormitories and fraternity houses joined at a review of marching students of the reserve officers' training corps, and Major C. W. Foote, the commandant, wrote to the Spectator characterizing the perpetrators as disrespectful to the college, the flag, constitution and the army.

Werner replied to Major Foote through the Spectator, defending the students who joined, although he did not say whether he was one of them. He said any man had a right to appeal or join when or what he pleased, adding, "some one should know the major that too war is over."

The Spectator then published an editorial criticizing the students who took part in the review and Werner wrote another letter to the editor which was not printed but to which the Spectator replied. The contents of Werner's second letter were well known on the campus Wednesday, though the means of distribution remained unknown.

Werner is a veteran of the Argentine

TAYLOR GETS 3 YEARS

Former Warren Bank President Sent to Plymouth—Expresses Penitence

BOSTON, May 18.—Frank L. Taylor, former brakeman who for a few weeks was president of the First National bank at Warren at a salary of $50 a week, pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to misapplication of securities of the bank valued at more than $200,000. He was sentenced by Judge Morris to serve three years in Plymouth county jail.

A second indictment against Taylor charging embezzlement of the securities was not pressed. Assistant U. S. Attorney John V. Sullivan told the court that in allowing Joseph B. Marchino of Chicago access to the vaults from which the securities were taken, Taylor had no intention of allowing them to be embezzled. In asking that Taylor be sent to Plymouth rather than Atlanta, Attorney Sullivan said the prisoner had a tendency to tuberculosis, and he believed Plymouth would be the better place for him.

Taylor, who was arrested in Chicago and brought here two months ago, was merely the tool of Marchino, the prosecuting attorney said. Marchino, described as the "arch-conspirator," was said to have used some of the proceeds of the sale of the Warren bank's securities to keep the Niagara Life Insurance Co. of Buffalo out of difficulties. Marchino has not been arrested. He and Abraham Goldman of Chicago, Marchino's father-in-law were indicted in charge of aiding and abetting Taylor in misapplication and embezzlement of the securities. Goldman has not yet been tried.

While Taylor had knowledge of the irregular methods of the other two men there was no intent to embezzle," Attorney Sullivan said. "Taylor has made a full confession to me and he is only desirous of further aiding the government in placing the full responsibility on the culpable persons."

Taylor expressed penitence and said he desired "to right the wrong resulting from his wrongdoing."

Only 14 but a multimillionaire! Florence Argall Yates, who recently came into a fortune of $15,000,000, probably is one of America's wealthiest children. The money was left by her father, Porter B. Yates of Milwaukee, head of the Yates Machine Works of Helmit and Ontario.

THE LEAGUE OF CATHOLIC WOMEN

The final meeting of the League of Catholic Women for the present season will be held in Memorial hall over the city library Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. WHOLE FAMILY PRAISE "DRECO"

"No More Liver Trouble, Gas or Sour Stomach in Our Family," Says Mrs. R. Greenaway of Wilkinsburg

"That Dreco, the new herbal remedy, is no respecter of age or sex, that it relieves and strengthens one and all alike, is convincingly proven by the experience of the Greenaway family residing at 1216 Glenn street, Wilkinsburg, Pa."

"Some time ago I began reading about Dreco in the papers," writes Mrs. Greenaway, "and saw so many interesting cases that we all decided to give it a trial, for stomach and liver disorders, and as a general tonic. 'It's a general tonic, all right, you can see that in the increased energy bills. I never saw such appetites as we have all developed.' Liver and stomach troubles are now things of the past and the entire family, two girls and a boy, Mr. Greenaway and myself are in better health and spirits than we have ever been."

"If people only knew more about your wonderful medicine there would be at least one bottle of Dreco in every home."

To have perfect health we must have perfect digestion and healthy bowel action. When these organs become deranged, many symptoms are likely to appear. Take Dreco one week and satisfy yourself that it will do for you what it is doing for hundreds every day."

DRECO is being introduced to the people of Lowell by Green's Drug Store, 111 on them. Let them tell you of the merits of this wonderful product. They will honestly tell you whether or not they think DRECO will benefit you. Also Dreco is being sold in Nashua by Nashua Pharmacy Co., 175 Main st. Adv

HONESTY WILL CURE ILLS, SAYS PRES. HARDING

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Alexander Hamilton's conception of financial integrity and the sanction of obligation was invoked as a remedy for present world conditions by President Harding in his address yesterday at the unveiling here of a statue of the first secretary of the treasury.

Such principles as Hamilton lived by, combined with a leadership which has above prejudiced opinion, had its beginnings in war or its emphasis on geographic division," the president declared, "would turn humanity to the rational and only way of restoration."

"There will be the substitution of hope and resolution, where hatred and resentment are now hindering recovery," he added. "There will be less thought of yesterday and more of tomorrow."

Without mentioning directly the pressing problems incident to international financial obligations, Mr. Harding dwelt particularly upon the value of Hamilton's service in putting "the seal of sanity upon the financial fever of anarchy upon the American people."

of Hamilton's service in putting "the seal of sanity upon the financial fever of anarchy upon the American people." It stressed "the rugged honesty of this patriot statesman, because honesty will cure 10,000 ills of today," and asserted that "honesty among nations will dissolve their differences so that new and lasting friendships may be born by the ties of fraternity and mutual trust."

"Honesty of leadership will spare us the popular misconceptions which are ever-mingling to democracy," he continued. "Honesty in statecraft will point the way to inappreciable heights. Honesty in politics will reveal unerring public opinion, and honesty in public service everywhere will diminish public waste and extravagance. Honesty of manhood and womanhood will abolish the sources of discontent which threaten the world's civilization and will bring to a conclusion regarding the fundamentals of the social fabric, without which fundamentals there can be no human progress."

The president deplored the display of factionalism, and pointed to the "seemingly inspired fear of factionalism," held by Hamilton who, he said, "thought it in the making and warned us of today against its development." Despite this warning, Mr. Harding said, factions have arisen which would invade the constitutional rights of others or subvert the constitution itself.

Miss Beatrice Richards was previously connected with the Needlecraft Shop for seven years and is an expert on needlework.

DOUBLE GUARD OVER CLARA PHILLIPS

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 18.—Police officials assert that they have intercepted correspondence from the woman held as Clara Phillips, the California murderess to persons of unknown identity offering large sums of money, if they should assist the prisoner in escaping from jail here.

As a result, the authorities have doubled their vigilance over the woman and have decided that she may have no visitors.

The police also say they have information that two persons have left Mexico for Honduras, with the object of assisting the prisoner to escape.

FRENCH AMERICAN REPUBLICAN CLUB

The annual meeting of the French-American Republican club of Massachusetts was held at the American house in Boston yesterday afternoon and present were numerous members from this city and other points of the state.

The meeting was presided over by President Ernest Laroque, a state representative, whose home is in Fall River, and a feature of the meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Representative Henri Achin, Lowell, president; J. Omer Smith, Lowell; Alfred Lherge, Lynn, and Louis Chaplin, Fall River, vice presidents; Representative Ernest Laroque, Fall River, secretary-treasurer; Hon. Felix Gattinon, Southbridge; George Brunelle, Webster; Fred Hamelin, Lynn; Louis Deschene, Fitchburg; Representative Chauncey Popin, Salem; Louis Lemay, North Attleboro and Leo Senecal, Chicago, executive board.

Considerable business pertaining to the organization was transacted and it was voted to hold the election of officers biennially instead of annually as heretofore. At the close of the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

TOBACCO MEN PROTEST
Declare Drug Stores Cut Prices on Tobacco to Increase Sales and Obtain Greater Allowances of Liquor

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Tobacco Merchants' association charged in its convention here that certain wholesale druggists were cutting prices on tobacco products to increase their sales and obtain greater allowances of medicinal liquor.

The resolution was adopted asking the treasury department to eliminate cigars and cigarettes from the "honest drug business" sales which control the quantity of liquor a druggist may handle.

will be shown after the 75th parallel has been passed. If the course continues persistently northward, it will tend to confirm Amundsen's theory of gravitation toward the pole and that point may ultimately be reached even though the Maud may circumnavigate
it entirely before reaching it.
If the angle flattens out and becomes a more western course, the like-hood will appear to be that the polar pack is grounded and stationary and the pole never will be reached by the Amundsen party.
The movements recorded during the next six months probably will forecast
the result.

Instant relief from CORN without risk of infection

Safely! You can end the pain of corns in one minute. Dr. Scholl's Corn-pads will do it, for they remove the cause—friction—pressure, and replace it with ease. Thus you avoid infection from cutting your corns or using caustic acids. They antiseptically waterproof. Soften the corns, soothe, and heal. Get a kit at day store, druggist, or

HIGHER PRICED COAL

If it wouldn't be asking too much from President Harding, the people of this country, particularly those of New England, would like to hear what he proposes to do to prevent the coal barons and the railroads from fleecing the people next winter as they did last by boosting the price of coal and making it impossible in some places to get it at any price.

There is a fact-finding commission in existence, but if it continues its work along the lines thus far followed, it may not be ready to report before 1925. Already the independent coal dealers are raising the prices in anticipation of the fall demand, and Massachusetts is threatened with a coal famine unless the pure coal law recently passed be repealed. The mines do not want to be freed by any law that would reject "dressed" coal and penalize those who sell it.

This would seem to offer an interesting subject of discussion for President Harding on his tour of the country; but yet it is one of the subjects on which he will remain religiously silent. His World Court, shipping and tariff matters will divert attention from the mismanagement of the coal strike and that of the railroad shop-workers by which the transportation was paralyzed for nearly a year.

Last fall Senator Walsh did everything possible to induce the government to adopt some method to prevent a coal famine; but the republican leaders did not seem to regard the situation as requiring any interference by congress; and hence nothing was done until too late. Then the president, as usual, threw up his hands and let the coal famine proceed, with the result that while an abundance of coal was mined and vast quantities shipped to Canada by rail, about half the people of New England were unable to secure an adequate supply.

It is pertinent, therefore, to ask President Harding whether we are to have a repetition of last winter's experience.

ANCIENT ROADS FOUND

It is reported that an old Roman road has been discovered four feet under the surface of the ground at Colchester, England. Several such roads were built during the invasion of Britain by the Roman forces in the time of Julius Caesar; but it is reported that the one uncovered at Colchester is of tessellated or mosaic pattern, such as is found in some modern buildings or in bath rooms. A road of that kind reveals the advanced civilization of that early time. It is not more remarkable, however, than some of the footprints of the first civilization found in Peru. There, too, some splendid roads were discovered, some of them nearly 2,000 miles long, twenty feet wide and practically as good today as when first built many centuries ago. These roads had for their foundation huge slabs of stone. This was covered with a thick coating of bluish cement, which time has hardened into solid rock.

The good roads movement recently started in this country will doubtless result in the building of some splendid highways across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Prevalence of motor traffic makes such roads a public necessity and hence the national government has taken up the movement in co-operation with the various states for the construction of great permanent arteries of travel throughout the country. It is a movement that will repay the necessary expenditure by the increased facilities it will offer for overland travel and the transportation of freight by motor truck. In this respect it will help solve the transportation problem.

GOLD AND PLATINUM

Would you pound up and pulverize a ton of quartz, the rock so hard that it dills a chisel, to get $9,162? We agree, money is not that hard to make.

And yet the ore mined in the great gold mines of northern Ontario, Canada, during 1922 yielded only $9.16 of gold for each ton of rock. Despite this, the average man yearns to join the boomers whenever he reads of a new gold stampede. Modern machinery can make a profit, under favorable conditions, from gold ore assaying only $9.16 to the ton. But "modern machinery" means that it is a corporation game, not a one-man job as in the old days.

Offer the average man the choice between a point of gold and a pound of platinum. He would take the gold. You probably would, too. But you have recently bought platinum jewelry. Platinum comes from the same corners of the earth, Russia, Turkey, and so on. In 1922, says a financial report, the United States imported only $1,692 ounces of platinum at an average of $5 an ounce.

That is more than twice as valuable as gold. Platinum is not so much a symbol of wealth as gold, because it hasn't had as much advertising and has not been so widely peddled during the ages. The value of gold and our confidence in it are largely matters of imagination.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL

Registrar Goodwin appeals to the people of this state to help save the children from death in auto accidents. He announces that children have been killed at the rate of one a day in this state since May 1, and if this rate continues, the result will be even more than was expected as based upon past records. In spite of every precaution, Mr. Goodwin estimates that in the course of the year, 220 children will be killed and 5,544 injured in auto accidents in this state. It is a very serious matter and radical measures must be adopted to lessen this slaughter of the innocents. The drivers of autos are not responsible for the vast

A Thought

Not Mentally
A lad of diminutive size and carrying under his arm such a load of new books that a passerby was moved to pity. "My boy," he asked, "don't all those papers make you tired?" "No," replied the boy, cheerfully, "I can't read."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Two Talkers
Sheila Lewis visited London, where he acquired a rather unfortunate reputation of longevity. At many London dinner parties where the brilliant Bernard Shaw was guest, Mr. Lewis would talk on and on from the oysters to the coffee. Shaw was nowhere. Mr. Shaw said good-humoredly to the younger man at the end of the fifth of these dinner parties: "Mr. Lewis, you'll be sorry after I die that you never heard me talk."—London Times.

All But His Own
She was one of those women who want to see everything there is in the shop. She was looking for hosiery and the obsequious and obliging salesman got down everything in stock within a radius of half a mile. After the customer had been shown with hosiery of every size and shape and color-box on box, dozens of hosiery were piled up. "There, madam, is our stock," "Is that all you have?" asked the woman, her voice showing disappointment. The salesman paused. "Very complete," he replied, "except the pair I've got on."

What Detained You?
He was a man who crossed a railway crossing in Maryland, and his hours were from 7 in the morning till 7 at night; but he was instructed not to leave until the "train" appeared which drove everything in sight within a radius of half a mile. After the customer had been shown with hosiery of every size and shape and color-box on box, dozens of hosiery were piled up. "There, madam, is our stock," "Is that all you have?" asked the woman, her voice showing disappointment. The salesman paused. "Very complete," he replied, "except the pair I've got on."

THE CROKER WILL CASE

Quite interesting and even sensational is the new turn in the famous contest over the will of the late Richard Croker, Tammany Hall chief. Mrs. Walter, his daughter, has found evidence that her father, prior to and at the date of her pretended marriage to Richard Croker, deceased, was the lawful wife of Guy R. Miro, of which fact Richard Croker was then and during the rest of his life wholly ignorant. It is alleged that the supposed Mrs. Croker was married to said Miro in Northampton, Mass., in 1911, and that the marriage relation has not been terminated either by death or divorce. That charge, if true, would seem to be a clincher against the claims of the supposed widow to the Croker estate on the ground that she was the lawful wife of the testator.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Nearly 315 million people traveled into or out of New York city last year, says a transit report. A lot of duplications, naturally, nearly two-thirds, were commuters or suburban passengers.

But the traffic job involved was equivalent to hauling nearly every person in the United States three times. And in and out of just one city. Transportation is our greatest problem—hence our greatest economic weak spot.

Even here in Lowell we have transportation problems awaiting solution and as for the nation at large the inadequate railroad service and the high freight rates are like the puzzle and despair of our stateroom.

RAIL MERGERS

Railroad mergers are in the air in New England. Those proposed for this district would unite the Boston and Maine, Maine Central and Bangor & Aroostook lines with the New York Central. Such a consolidation would probably afford better service than these separate lines are giving at present. It would also, in all probability, overcome most of the labor troubles still existing on the New England lines.

This move is only in line with the ordinary course of development. The great Pennsylvania system has been built up from 600 transportation companies now aggregating 10 transportation corporations operating as a unit.

THE DISABLED VETERANS

The people of Lowell are with Mayor Donovan in his desire to aid the disabled veterans of the World war who are to hold a convention at the Memorial Auditorium, May 25-27. The government is estimated for alleged failure to look after these veterans more closely. The government certainly meant to provide for them most liberally and in all probability the amounts appropriated were sufficient; but owing to the mismanagement and wastefulness of those in charge of its disbursement, much of it has been wasted, while many of those for whom it was intended have been neglected.

Street department measures naturally show the effect of the long battle with the heavy snows of the winter. But it does not justify drawing upon the poor revenue account as proposed for a small paving job and improvements at the Moody and Symonds street schools. This report is in violation of the policy adopted last year. Money from this fund does not count on the tax-rate.

Mayor Donovan will have no objection to the removal to other shoulders of the responsibility for "Tag day," of which a great many people have become supremely tired.

Harvey is home again and for the honor and good name of this country, not to speak of its diplomatic interests, he should never be sent back to London.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Straw hats are rapidly coming into bloom, as the seasonal headgear for the male species. For the past two or three weeks the courageous beau brummage have been sporting new styles and fancy weaves while their conservative brethren waited on the side lines, for some real warm weather, and companionship in the movement to adopt the lighter and cooler head ornament. Various styles, colors and makes are offered to the discerning buyer. With them may be found the old tried and true modes of the ash can type, that have been with us for many long years. The shoe shine stands are making a cleanup of last year's remnants, with a guarantee that the old will look like new after they get through with it, and in practically every instance it is, but not exactly a brand new sky piece. The change may pass in the dark or in a crowd, but in the bright sun light, the effect of the perfect summer can be detected with little trouble. Sport suits are making their reappearance before the public. Many of them have been packed away in the moth balls through the long winter, but now they come back in a new and better way. The figure of their owners. Despite the allegation of the postmistress, it is safe to state that the springtide is with us, and that summer is just beyond the hill.

People who crowd the baselines at the Twilight games and all others must realize that they are taking chances of being struck by hit balls. At several of the games held at the South common, youngsters and grown-ups who stationed themselves within the forbidden space were struck by hard hit balls. Fortunately no serious injury resulted, but the minor accidents had little effect on the spectators nearby. The nature of the grounds and the large crowd that attends the games makes necessary some infringements on the playing territory, but there is a limit to all things. Maintain a discreet distance between yourself and the batter is a safe rule to follow at the ball games.

One of the remarkable features of the Twilight games is the number of veterans who are able to hold their own against the young fellows. The triumph of every team in the circuit discloses several men who are supposed to be on the sidelines watching the youngsters perform, but who are out there every game grabbing hard hit balls and battling the team leaders. Intelligence plays a great part in the national game. It enables the old war horse to maintain the pace and to remain active, even though the youth has dimmed and the muscles refuse to respond to the employed class, as collected from the employed class, play a brand of baseball that would do credit to many of the professionals in organized ranks. Daylight saving makes the league a source of enjoyment for thousands who would otherwise loiter around their homes.

The city planning board or similar organization in the city, might do well to make an extensive tour of Lowell, to investigate the need of erecting legible street signs. There is a lack of these much appreciated bits of information, where streets cross and twist, in a confusing manner. People who have been residents of a certain locality for years, in many cases, do not know the names of streets that they traverse every day in the week. Strangers are at sea, it is a question of asking the mail man or a policeman. The latter class of public servants have acquired a reputation for knowing practically everything in connection with the city. They are factors that lighten to a considerable extent the burden of the stranger here, who perhaps is seeking a certain residence or business establishment. Other cities much smaller than Lowell have gone to the trouble to label their thoroughfares in a manner that anyone can ascertain his or her location. A map of the city is all right, and useful at times, but if one doesn't know the name of the street underneath, of what value is the map. Lowell is rapidly earning a reputation as the convention city of Massachusetts, but what would these strangers say in regard to street signs? The scattered signs that are posted around the city, in many cases are hidden from sight, and are faded beyond recognition. The matter is of moment, and their day of usefulness is long passed. The planning board at its next meeting might do well to start something in relation to the street signs.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Trend of the Modern Sea Story
Boston Transcript: A Newfoundland rum runner is quoted as saying that his skip made a gross profit of $1,000,000 last year. The statement ought to rank among the marvellous parables of the salaried.

A Middle-Headed President
New York World: Mr. Harding has invented a new system of government for the United States. It is a system under which congress is elected and the states are required to enforce whatever laws that congress, in its infinite wisdom, sees fit to pass.

Under Mr. Harding's system the states cease to have an identity of their own. They have no right or original control over their own institutions. They become merely administrative agents of the federal authority, whose highest function is to relieve the federal authority of all responsibility for the enforcement of the laws that congress enacts.

The present example of it all in a letter to a hysterical prohibitionist in Newburgh who thinks that if Governor Smith signs the bill repealing the Mulligan-Keefe act congress should be convened at once to suspend the governor of New York and the legislature of New York. "If a state official who voted for the bill is subject to the law of treason," writes the prohibitionist's correspondent, and Mr. Harding replies, "With such that you say I am fully in accord."

A Hopeful Union
Ohio State Journal: Our alert and impartial labor commissioner has inaugurated a serious investigation under the heading of "The Rates on Resin, Phenol and Cresylic Acid, and we guess well show leaving them in quantities and get away from hand in the hope that something may be done about it in time."

What Moses Might Have Discovered
Detroit News: A Senator Moses learned in his Egyptian trip is that there is hatred, enmity, if he had stayed another day, he doubtless would have found that there are windmills in Hollieth and Padlans speak French.

AT MERRIMACK PARK
An enjoyable party was held at Merrimack Park last night, under the auspices of the J. C. Fox of Lowell and Lawrence. A large crowd from both cities was represented to enjoy the various dance numbers and view the competitive J. C. Fox contest and a clever exhibition by J. J. Dugan, who appeared at Kait's here last week.

EXHIBITION DANCING AT THE KASINO

The Kasino in Thornhill street will be the scene tomorrow evening of exhibition dancing by Renee Prew and Louise Fontini, who claim the championship of Lowell. The local championship is in dispute, but despite that fact these two dancers are very accomplished and very graceful.

During the reign of Edward III in England, more than two courses were not permitted at one meal, except on certain holidays.

The Collector

"Dear sir: I'd like your autograph,"

A letter to the poet read;
The poet gave a happy laugh,
"I have arrived," he gaily said;
"The world is waiting to my fame!"—
He waved the letter in the air,
And I shall win an honored name
And be respected everywhere.

"My autograph! This letter shows
That genius will be recognized;
My brilliant verse, my clever prose,
Are justly and sincerely prized.
I wonder just what verse of mine
Has caused this devotee to write?
I'll copy it for him, and sign
My autograph for his delight.

"So now to scan the missive through,"
The poet read; his features fell—
"I'd like your autograph, as you Must know that for a long, long spell,
You've let this debt accumulate,
It's time that you came through, by Heck!
Believe me, I'd appreciate
Your autograph—upon a check."

ADMISSION TO HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Headmaster Henry H. Harris, of the high school, has received a notice from the committee on admission to Harvard university, that is revolutionary as regards high school students entering the college.

Under the plan outlined in this notice, any one of the first seventh of the graduating class of high schools such as Lowell's, is eligible to enter Harvard university without taking the usual entrance examination, provided that the headmaster of the school will recommend him. They also state that this is just an experiment, and that the records of any students entering the college under this rule will be scrutinized carefully so that the committee may modify this rule for the next year if such modification is necessary. As a uniform basis for making this entrance qualification, the two last years' records of a student, the junior and senior years, will be the only ones that will count.

Under the latter part of this qualification a student who plans on going to Harvard college may have very unsatisfactory records during his first two years in school, but as long as he is one of the first seventh in rank for his last two years, he may enter the college without taking an examination.

In speaking of this new ruling, Mr. Harris stated that before any student of the first seventh who wished to enter Harvard without taking an examination received a recommendation from him, he would have to have proved that he has the character and ability to be a credit to the school and to get through his college studies without flunking and thereby disgracing the high school.

Another new ruling by the committee on admission to Harvard is that, beginning next June no candidate will be allowed to enter the school who fails to pass the test in English com-

HENRY MCCAY

PAINS IN BACK?

Listen to What Mr. McCay Says About It.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"For several years I had been subject to severe pains in my back, which often became so intense that I was compelled to cease work for days at a time. I could hardly walk. I feared I was about to lose my health or experience a general breakdown. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets on Saturday night and in less than twenty-four hours all trace of pain had completely gone, and although ten weeks have now elapsed I have never felt the slightest return of the pain. I will be pleased to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets to any one whose condition may be similar."—Henry McCay, 100 Milton st., (Greenpoint.)

position except those to whom the English language is not native. This ruling shows that while the committee is willing to experiment with high school students who rank high by allowing them to enter without taking any examination, others who take the examination will have to "toe the mark" a little better than they have in the past.

LAKEVIEW OPENS FOR THE SEASON

With all facilities of the modern summer resort, Lakeview opened for the season last night, with a crowd of 1500 to 2000 out to enjoy life out-of-doors. Fully 500 automobiles were parked in and about the place. From the Willow Dale entrance almost to Tray Rock, where Lakeview road takes an abrupt turn towards Mountain Rock, the space was filled with machines and electric cars arriving at periods of from three to five minutes.

The dance hall was perhaps the most popular of the many things the crowd found at Lakeview. Hundreds of incandescent lights make the place as bright as day and from Lake Masconopic's waters the place is one to be remembered. The floor surface is 1200 sq. ft. and 1000 people may dance at one time without crowding. The orchestra, Milner-Doyle's organization of 10 pieces, is conducted by Prof. Barnes, one of the best in his line available anywhere. Behind the orchestra and overheard are sound boards that amplify and distribute the music.

DISABLED VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR

Chairman Charles Collins of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, in charge of the campaign to solicit donations and advertisements to help finance the third Massachusetts state department convention of the organization to be held here May 25, 26 and 27, states that the finance committee has collected $550 of the necessary $1000, needed to finance the convention.

Edward Sullivan, Charles Collins, William Quinn, William Traverso and James McCormick have been appointed by Commander Dodge, of the Lowell Disabled Veterans, as a reception committee, to look after the needs of the 200 delegates who will assemble here from all parts of the state.

There will be a general committee meeting of veterans tonight at the home of Charles Collins, 36 Bartlett street. Plans for the Memorial day program and the convention will be discussed. The organization states that it has accepted the invitation of the G.A.R. to take part in the Memorial day parade.

MANY ENLISTMENTS FOR THE ARMY

Sergeant T. J. Kimball is feeling quite enthused as a result of his progress in getting enlistments for the army, during the present week, in the Lowell area. Since the increase in pay granted mill employees, the sergeant has had trouble in persuading qualified men to enter the service, but "I can see a break in regard to enlisting in the army," said the sergeant, who is much pleased with his prospects.

Opportunities for travel and non-commissioned berths, never before offered in the army, are now open for men with the necessary qualities. Announces the sergeant: Men are wanted in every branch of the service, for the Pacific coast, through the Panama Canal Zone, Georgia and West Point, N. Y. The latter, with the personal escort to the president, has vacancies open. Medical men and bondsmen are desired. Non-commissioned berths are open in both of these departments.

Men with grammar and high school education are qualified for entrance into trade schools and special branches of the service. Enlistment is for a

WAS FINED $200
IN LIQUOR CASE

Adam Laplewski of Forge Village, arrested by Federal Agents Sullivan and Hall on the night of May 15 after he had contracted with the officers for the sale of a pint of liquor, was fined $200 in the superior court by Judge Morris yesterday. Laplewski refused to be brought to the district court, evidently thinking that the higher court would extend leniency. He appeared first before U. S. Commissioner Hayes and waived examination. In exactly 25 minutes' time, the shortest on record for such cases, he was brought before the superior court justice and the stiff fine imposed.

The day previous, John Rochan, proprietor of an establishment at 303 Broadway, Lawrence, and Frank McDevitt of 10 Essex street, Lawrence, both of whom were arrested by Agents Sullivan and Hall, were fined $300 each.

Jack Lawlor Defeats Kid Wagner In Skillful Ten Round Ring Battle

LAWLOR WINS OVER WAGNER

Omaha Battler Lands Award Over Philadelphian in Fast Ten-Round Battle

Jack Lawlor of Omaha triumphed over Eddie "Kid" Wagner, of Philadelphia, recent conqueror of Lew Paltrow, in a sensational battle over the ten round route at the Moody club show in the Crescent rink last night.

The bout was a pugilistic treat in which two of the speediest and most scientific boys of their weight ever seen in this vicinity had at it. Lawlor, the dancing master, the straight and heavy hitter, excelled at long range work, while Wagner showed unusual class in in-fighting and proved a ring general of a high order.

The battle opened up with both feeling the other out, watching for an opening, and grasping every opportunity to hit. Lawlor used a crashing left with good effect, while Wagner depended more on scoring with the inside. As the bout wore on it stepped up materially, and Lawlor's success was due to the fact that he had the faculty of beating his opponent to the punch.

The first few rounds, while fast and exciting with strenuous endeavor, were fairly even. In the fourth Lawlor started to forge to the front. In this session the pair battled furiously. Lawlor apparently locked in a clinch, Wagner began to pump punches into Lawlor's midriff with piston-rapid rapidity. Lawlor met him at his own range, and they exchanged punches from one side of the ring to the other. It was a hurricane session with Lawlor having the edge. In the sixth and seventh rounds a real battle was on, toe-to-toe battling, Lawlor showing the way, but Wagner giving him a stiff argument. The succeeding rounds found both displaying brilliant wares, with the tenth proving a most thrilling three minutes of action.

While both scored many heavy blows during the battle, Lawlor particularly shaking up Wagner with a one left and an equally effective right cross, and the Philadelphia ringer up some stinging punches to the head, neither bore a mark of combat, and both left the ring without any signs of distress. It was a skillful battle between two well matched and well trained performers. The decision to Lawlor was the proper one.

In the semi-final scheduled for eight rounds Jimmy Stuart of New York won "two decisions" over Young Vandy of Lawrence. Near the end of the first round Stuart sent Vandy to the floor, after having dropped him earlier in the round. Referee Flaherty pointed to Stuart in token of victory. He left the ring, a head up and in the confusion and consultation that followed, the referee decided to allow them to continue. Stuart was called back from his dressing room. He quickly responded, yet he could have justifiably refused to continue. Stuart proved a fighter of unusual hitting abilities and a "beater" for taking a couple to get one over. He held his head out, unprotected, to give his opponent a chance to hit him. Vandy did let go a number of good blows, but he, the third Stuart decided it was time to halt hostilities and he sent Vandy down and out.

Kid Wagner and Young Hanko, both of Lawrence, met in the opening preliminary. It was a well contested battle, but Wagner won the final, six rounds to a decision for Hanko.

In the second preliminary Andy Martin of Roxbury won over Johnny Holbrook of Lynn in six rounds.

It was announced that Phinney Bogie and Johnny Avila, local rivals, will meet in the main event next Thursday night.

M. I. T. AND B. C. ARE FAVORITES IN MEET

CAMBRIDGE, May 18.—The annual battle for supremacy in track and field athletics among the member colleges of the New England Intercollegiate athletic association will open this afternoon with the trial events which will reduce the list of almost 500 athletes to finalists in the 15 events on the program for Saturday.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Boston college, joint holders of the championship as a result of last year's tie, are looked upon as favorites, with M.I.T. regarded as having the better balanced team. Bowdoin also is believed to have a real chance to win.

Other colleges which will be represented are Amherst, Bates, Boston University, Brown, Colby, Holy Cross, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Middlebury, New Hampshire college, Norwich, Rhode Island State, Trinity, University of Maine, University of Vermont, Wesleyan, Williams and Worcester Polytechnic.

His athletes who won first places in the 1922 meet will compete again today, while eight runner-ups in last year's events also will be on hand. The javelin throw has been added to the list of events and 15 colleges have named 54 entrants.

LAWRENCE DEFEATS ABBOT WORSTED NINE

The Lawrence Independents defeated the Abbot Worsted nine of Graniteville by the score of 6 to 3 at O'Sullivan park, Lawrence, last evening.

Scoring four runs in the first three innings, the Lawrence team took a lead which was not denied until the seventh when two Abbot runners crossed the plate. The game was called in the eighth on account of darkness.

Davidson was on the mound for the Abbot, and while he struck out 11 batters, he issued three passes which proved fatal. He was opposed by Davies, whose effectiveness in the pitcher's role pulled him out of a few tight holes. The longest hit of the game was poked by Nash of the Independents when he hit for three bases in the third with two runners on the base.

CARDS MOVE TO SECOND PLACE

St. Louis Team Looks Like Most Formidable Foe of Giants at Present Stage

NEW YORK, May 18.—Branch Rickey's St. Louis Cardinals, having won edges over both the Philadelphia and Boston clubs, thereby displacing the Pittsburgh Pirates in second place in the National league, appear today as the strongest team the New York Giants will have to face in the latter part of the season.

Rogers Hornsby, the Big Bertha of the Cardinals, had off yesterday, 13 on an attack on the Giants next week and at St. Louis never missed him, battering Barleigh Grimes of Brooklyn off the slab in the seventh inning, winning 6 to 2.

Having taken but one game from the Reds, which they did yesterday, 13 to 4, it is too early to ferret out how the Giants are going to fare against Cincinnati. But considering that the club, last year's leading league pitcher, out of the box in the innings, it appears that the Cardinals will not be greatly hampered.

The Giants take on the Cardinals after the Reds leave.

Hindolph Stages "Comeback"

Pittsburgh kept on the togo, when Dick Hindolph came out in retirement and pitched the Boston Braves to a sensational 10-inning victory in a pitching duel, 1 to 0. His prowess lifted the Braves to a tie with the Reds for second division leadership and to within one point of fourth place. If the Giants and Boston both win again today the Braves will be on the heels of the Cardinals tonight.

The Chicago Cubs battered the helpless Phillies, 7 to 4.

Both New York and Philadelphia continued their breath-taking performance.

LOWELL TEXTILE WILL MEET WORCESTER

Lowell Textile will play Worcester tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with the first nine representative Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Although the local team has experienced a poor season, thus far, the boys will go the high with the remainder of the schedule in a classic fashion. Worcester Tech is a team to be counted with as it possesses a star pitcher in Curran who has been hitting opponents to one two and three hits per game this season. Textile pitched last season to put a stop to the national delivery.

It is probable that Curran will start against the Engineers. Curran's arm is reported as being in tip-top shape at present and he may well find him a difficult proposition. The usual lineup in previous games will back him up.

Next Wednesday afternoon, Textile takes a trip to University Heights, Newton, for a clash with the fast-moving Boston college outfit, which has yet to meet defeat and which yesterday annexed its eighteenth consecutive win of the season. Having subdued B. C.'s greatest hurler, Holy Cross, Textile is anxious to administer a similar dose to the Harvard and gold Ray Farwell is being groomed to serve 'em up to the Eagles and it has in condition, the records must show a defeat for the Newton college. A large crowd of local rooters will accompany Textile's squad to the Boston suburb to take in the game.

Formances in the American league. The Yankees claimed Brian Shook of St. Louis as though he were a recruit, 3 to 2, and the Athletics, showing contempt for the veteran club of Cleveland, won 4 to 2. Babe Ruth got his fifth home run of the season.

Detroit took a crack at the weakened Boston Red Sox in the opening tilt of their series, 3 to 2. Washington, outgunning the Athletics, pointed out the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings, 3 to 2, and came within an ace of overstepping the slugging Browns.

Amateur Ball

The Fenwick will play the Springfield Cardinals at Shedd park tomorrow afternoon at 2:45. As both teams are new to the city, the game is anticipated as a hot one.

The Fenwick will rely on the following lineup: Normey rf, Marshall cf, Curran lf, Brady ss, Martin 3b, Norcross 2b, Lynch c, Golden p.

The Pawtucket Blues and the Waverly will cross bats on the South common Sunday afternoon. Both teams are evenly matched and the game is expected to be a close one. The Blues would like a game for May 21 with the South Ends or Beantown. Call 1533-31.

The Hudson Independents will play the strong Fallmounts at Shedd park tomorrow afternoon. Manager Clark requests the following to report at the field at 1:30 p.m.: John McCarthy, Alex. Haley, Sweeney, Sullivan, Hackey, Quinn, Tracy, O'Malley and Seamus. The Hudsons would like a game for Sunday with the Yankees. Call 547-M between 5 and 6 o'clock and ask for "Clark".

The Lisbon Juniors will play the Tyler A. C. on the South common tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. All players are required to report for practice at 1:30 p.m.

The Belvidere Seminoles defeated the Fenwick at Shedd park last evening. Walter's pitching triumphed over the Fenwick. The Seminoles won the 12-13-year-old championship of the city. For games, call 4153-W and ask for "Joe".

The fifth grade team of the Immaculate Conception school would like to play any 12-13-year-old team in the city. For games, call 543-W. Mr. Namara at Marlboro street or call 143-W and ask for "Jim".

The Chestnut All-Stars have reorganized under the name of the Varsity and the State Indemnity. Very important. Some of the Spanish athletes have left. The State Indemnity ball team ready to begin their training activities.

would like games with any of the strong local amateur teams.

The Fenwick Juniors defeated the Fenwick Juniors by the score of 5 to 4 and would like to have a game with the Fenwick Juniors. If accepted answer will follow.

Make THE Backyard Pay

BY W. R. BEATTIE,
Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture

Garden vegetables for the most part have to be planted every year. Asparagus and rhubarb, however, lend the list of the more or less permanent vegetables and are desirable of a place in small gardens wherever soil and climate are suitable.

The planting of these crops is but the first step. They must have proper fertilization, cultivation and care all times.

Asparagus stores energy in its fleshy roots during the summer and is one of the first plants to grow in the spring. Its tender shoots are a real delicacy early in spring. Asparagus may be grown practically everywhere in the United States, but especially along the sea coast and where the rainfall is reasonably heavy.

Important in caring an asparagus bed is to get good, strong, one-year plants or "crowns" as they are called. A bed of asparagus 12 by 12 feet in size containing about 50 plants set 15 inches apart in each direction is about right for the small garden. Before setting the plants, which may be done either in the spring or the fall, the ground should be trenched by throwing the surface soil to one side then sodding three or four inches of manure into the bottom layer so the soil will be worked and fertilized to a depth of 12 or 14 inches. About 3 to 10 pounds of coarse bone meal should also be sprinkled over the lower strata of soil and worked into it with the manure.

A little of the surface soil is spread over the manured subsoil and the crowns placed in position. About half or two-thirds of the remaining surface soil is then shoveled over the plants, taking care to see that their roots are spread evenly in all directions. The remaining soil is piled to one side and later filled in after the plants have started to grow.

Three-Year Growth
No cutting should be made from the asparagus bed until the third year in order to give the plants a chance to become well established. After the third year the bed may be cut for a period of about 4 or 5 weeks. After the cutting period is over the plants should be fertilized with good manure and commercial fertilizers.

During the summer the plants are frequently stippled by the little asparagus beetles or more particularly by the small dark colored slug that later develop into the beetles. These slugs can be poisoned by spraying or dusting the plants with arsenate of lead or with paris green.

Rhubarb

Rhubarb is not so well adapted to growing everywhere as it requires hard freezing during the winter to make it healthy and vigorous. Like asparagus, however, rhubarb stores energy in its roots all through the summer, then with the first signs of spring it makes one grand appearance in the form of tender leaf stems.

Rhubarb is started by planting pieces of root having at least one good bud or eye. Five or six hills produce enough for the average family, but the hills soon become too thick and require dividing. It is a good plan to have a few new hills coming on as no leaves should be pulled the first year. In some sections rhubarb will give splendid yields for 15 to 20 years, but as a rule 7 or 8 years is about the limit without resetting.

You're Really Efficient Though You Seem To Be Lazy, Says Expert

FRANK B. GILBRETH, EFFICIENCY EXPERT, AT HIS "LAZY MAN'S TABLE" AND ABOVE TEACHING EFFICIENCY TO TWO OF HIS ELEVEN CHILDREN.

By ALEXANDER HERMAN

N. E. A. Service Staff Writer
MONTCLAIR, N. J., May 15.—Frank B. Gilbreth, apostle of efficiency, can shave himself in 60 seconds flat. He uses two brushes for lathering, and one razor for scraping.

He keeps a flock of sheep to mow the family lawn, and never touches a lawnmower.

He can pack a traveling bag quicker than a customs inspector can empty one.

He works on a time-table, and every one of his 11 children has a special job around the house.

"Don't call it efficiency, though," says Gilbreth. "It's the lazy man's way. The lazy man is the efficient man if he only knew it."

Secrets like these are now disclosed by Gilbreth, who is one of the country's foremost authorities on management engineering. He has written many books on the subject and has installed his efficiency system in many factories.

Together with his wife, Gilbreth put his home on an efficiency basis. It was put to its greatest test when Mrs. Gilbreth went to California for a visit.

The system stood up. Each child attended to his duty. There was no confusion, no noise. And Gilbreth was happy.

"For I haven't quite got adapted to all my children yet," he confided. "But really, many families are more efficiently run than ours and those that aren't can be made so."

"The purpose of the whole scheme is to save time for leading gorgeously and inefficiently."

"I do not believe in this constant efficiency every minute of the day and every day of the week, but I do believe in saving time for leisure."

"First step in this time-saving is time-taking. Make a five-minute schedule of your day. Put down just what you do and when. You will note many leaks of time. Stop 'em."

"The most pathetic person in the world, I think, is he who talks of 'passing the time.' He's to be sympathized with and pitied."

"But don't practice your time saving at the wrong time. Don't try at the dinner table. Don't try it during your leisure hours."

"Try to do the routine things in the same way every day. When you go to bed, place your shoes in the same place every night. Hang your coat on the same chair. The time saved in finding it in the morning will be worth while."

Gilbreth works on a special "motion study" desk, on which everything is found exactly in its place. There is a special "one motion rack" for the pencils.

"One of the devices I enjoy most," says Gilbreth, "is my lazy man's table."

It's just an ordinary table with a ledge to keep the books from slipping off, which can be tilted over and rested on the arms of a chair. Anyone can make it.

Everything has its place in the Gilbreth household.

That is, most everything.

Someone, efficiently, had laid a fire in the grate. The room was inefficiently chilly. Gilbreth felt in his pockets, efficiently, for a match.

He searched every pocket.

No match!

Glenwood

Makes Cooking Easy

"I never knew I was such a good cook"

AND I'll have to give most of the credit to our new Glenwood range, it certainly has made a difference in my cooking. I'm spending less time in the kitchen, too.

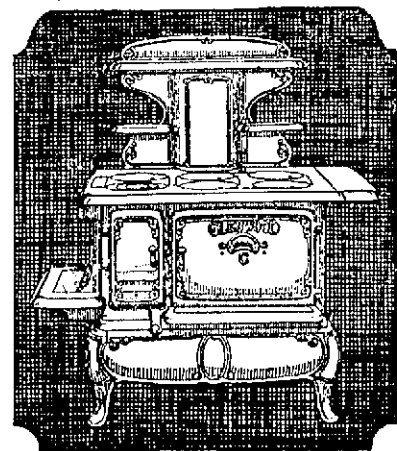

"It's a relief to have a range that doesn't need to be coaxed to cook."

A Glenwood comes as near to making cooking a pleasure as any range can. It does make cooking easy, which is really more important.

The Model "C" Glenwood is illustrated here.

Its big square oven bakes food exactly right—top, bottom and clear through. The balanced baking damper and the Glenwood Patent Indicator take care of that—you can't make a mistake.

Like every Glenwood, the Model "C" is built for a lifetime of service. It will give you a new idea of how easy it is to be a good cook.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

"Giddap, there! Giddap!" Jack Daw roared along, astride a broomstick, and shouted loudly, as Flip barked and snapped at the dragging broom. Each time the dog came close Jack would jump the broom into the air and give Flip a scare. And then Jack stopped short, as a wee voice said, "Whoa!"

"Who's telling me to 'whoa'?" shouted Jack, as he looked about him. And in answer, a happy looking little nite of a man hopped out of a nearby bush. "Why don't you take a regular ride on a regular horse?" asked this little fellow. "Oh, I'd like to very much," said Jack, "but I haven't a horse."

"Ho, ho, ho," laughed the man. "You haven't a horse, huh? Well, I'll get you one and we'll ride together on the finest trip you've ever had." And instantly he clapped his hands and out of nowhere appeared a fine horse. "Hop on," shouted the little fellow, "and away we'll go." (Continued.)

EIGHTY YEARS YOUNG MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

Dean of Lowell Insurance Men Reaches 80th Year and Still Vigorous

James Sykes, dean of Lowell insurance men and for the past 22 years connected with the local division of the John Hancock Co., today touched the 80th milestone of a fruitful life. Years have not exacted their toll as so often is the case when an active man reaches the age of four score and six. Sykes today seems every bit as vigorous as he did 25 years ago.

When the late and much loved Rev. John M. Greene, D.D., observed his 55th birthday anniversary, a friend asked concerning his health.

"I feel much stronger today than 35 years ago," was the venerable minister's reply and if the same question were asked of James Sykes today he might easily answer that he feels just as young and strong as when at the height of matured manhood.

There is real substantiation to the statement that Mr. Sykes is dean of the local insurance profession. It was in 1880, or 43 years ago, that he became associated with the Metropolitan Life, remaining with that company ten years, eight years as an agent and two years as an assistant superintendent. In April, 1901, he went with the John Hancock and has been an active agent with that company ever since. Today he is personally looking after more than 1400 accounts.

Even as early as Wednesday of this week, in anticipation of his approaching anniversary, fellow workers in the John Hancock office literally covered his desk with clusters of flowers and today from far and wide have come messages of congratulation and sincere expressions of friendship containing the hope of many more happy anniversaries and a continuance of rugged health.

Mr. Sykes was born in Yorkshire, England, May 18, 1843. His youthful interests were in the woolen mill and wood turning industries in the old

Organized Reserves Gets Invitation From G. A. R. Memorial Day Committee

Major F. J. Troskey, executive officer of the Organized Reserves in Lowell, has just received the following invitation from the G. A. R. Memorial Day committee: "It is with pleasure that this committee extends to the Organized Reserves, U. S. Army, a cordial invitation to participate in the Memorial day parade. Should you wish to be represented on the staff of the chief marshal, will you kindly appoint two mounted aids, sending their names to Col. Charles Stevens."

After receiving this invitation, Maj. Troskey issued general orders requesting every member of the reserves to take part in this parade, the first time in the history of the Organized Reserves that this unit of the national defense has participated in any Memorial day exercise.

An excerpt from his communication follows:

"You reservists of the 35th artillery and 12th engineers should be especially proud of your organization. In only one year you have accomplished what other organizations have completely organized in other personnel. Equipped and equipped the first Organized Reserves' Band in America. Held the first parade and demonstration wholly in the interest of the Organized Reserves. You have more enlisted men in the 35th artillery than all other New England Reserve organizations combined. You are further organized than any similar sized organization in the entire United States. You are the first organization of the Reserve ever invited to participate in a Memorial day parade. Will you be present? Certainly."

MANY LICENSES GRANTED

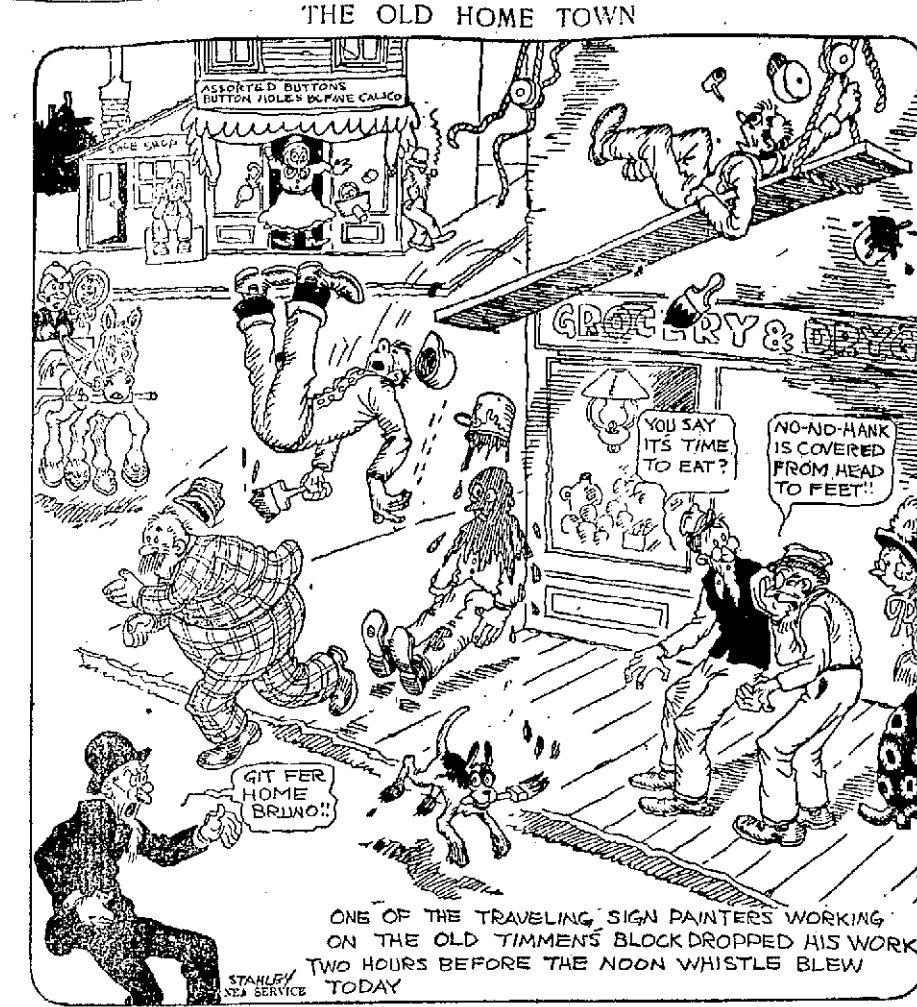

According to statistics compiled by John J. Maherty, clerk in the office of the license commission, there were 63 licenses granted to retail vendors of soft drinks in the city of Lowell in 1922. A luncheon holders' license, 41 lunch carts, 39 restaurants and 42 coffee houses, judging from the number of renewals applied for and the additional number of new applications, it is evident that the present year will witness a noticeable increase.

country, which he left in 1867, settling at Lowell in May of that year. Lowell has been his home ever since. He has loved his industrial life and his religious, social and fraternal affiliations have been most pleasant. For 50 years he has lived in a house he built at 74 London street.

For 44 years Mr. Sykes has been a member of the First church and perhaps no other single person has shown such intense interest in its affairs. Veritably he has been a part of the church and for 35 years his services as sexton and pew agent have been invaluable. The honored title of deacon, which he now holds is the result of 40 years of active work as a deacon.

His membership in the Order of Odd Fellows, which dates back 53 years.

Mr. Sykes has two sons, Alvin B. of this city, and Louis B. of Springfield, four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Dorothy Newburgh, of Lynn, Wins Verdict in Breach of Promise Suit

TORONTO, May 18.—Dorothy Newburgh, a stenographer, of Lynn, Mass., today was awarded a $10,000 verdict in her $50,000 suit for breach of promise against Russell T. Scott of this city. Scott did not attend the trial, which began yesterday.

Interior Civil Strife is Raising Ruinations With Cotton Yarn Production

The principal word brought back to this country from China by William A. Mitchell, former agent of the Massachusetts Cotton mills, who reached his Lowell home night before last, is that China's interior civil strife has had and still is having a most depressing effect on cotton yarn production. When he sailed for home some of the large mills were closed down entirely, while others were drifting along with not more than 50 per cent of the usual working force being employed.

"Until some solution comes to the country's interior problems and strife, China's cotton industry will be more or less in a state of stagnation," said Mr. Mitchell today.

"China's cotton industry is mostly the production of yarns and the largest plants are located in the interior with hand looms being operated almost entirely. Civil strife has made transportation of products to coast cities most difficult and the result is a general let-down of business."

A proposal advanced by the Chinese Cotton Mill Owners' association to regulate work owing to the ever growing stagnation in the cotton yarn market has been endorsed by many mills in Tientsin have decided to follow the example of the association whose headquarters are in Shanghai and will cut their operations to half of their ordinary working capacity.

This restriction of operations is inevitable in view of living conditions in China at the present time. Mr. Mitchell feels and says the situation is so uncertain and is attended by so many perplexing possibilities that his return to the Orient is indefinite.

He said today he plans to remain in Lowell for two weeks or more, after which his business will take him to New York. He intends to go back to China some time and looks upon his stay in this country as only temporary, but admits it may be of indefinite length, depending very much upon when China shows signs of returning to normalcy in relation to her cotton industry.

"The cotton industry there will become stabilized when the country itself assumes a more even keel and not before," said Mr. Mitchell.

BROCKTON FACING ONE OF WORST LABOR CRISES IN HISTORY—SHOE STRIKE SPREADS

BROCKTON, May 18.—Brockton is facing one of the worst labor crises in its history today, resulting from the walkout of shoemakers and trimmers, and clerks at the Brockton Public Market this morning.

Augmented by the striking dressers and packers, Brockton's total striking population now numbers over 2,300 shoemakers in addition to the 50 clerks. Unless an immediate settlement is effected, it is probable that about 25,000 workers in the many factories will be idle Monday.

The labor situation here is tense. Other unions may follow the lead of the now three striking unions. Every branch of the shoe-making craft in the city has more or less strained relations with the B. & S. W. I. general headquarters.

The leathers, cutters and stitchers, the three big locals of the city, remain at work but the strike sentiment grows every hour.

Dissatisfaction over decisions handed down recently by the state board of arbitration may cause a general strike in the city, it is feared, by shoe manufacturers.

The walkout of the shoemakers and trimmers paralyzed shoe production in the way from the making room.

Only a few shoes have been shipped the past few days, and after what shoes remain in the packing room are Continued on Page Four

SHOT FIRED IN DISTRICT COURT

To prove that a pistol, which John Maurauro, charged with unlawfully having such an instrument in his possession, was a "toy pistol," Judge Bright instructed Deputy Hugh Downey to discharge a shot out a window of the district courtroom during the trial of the case this morning. As a result, a 22 bullet whizzed through the ozone and pierced the ground in the rear of the court building. The shot made Maurauro flinch, as he was fined that amount for possessing the "toy."

CONCERTED RUSH FOR SINGLE EXIT—WEIGHT OF CROWD CAUSES STAIRS TO COLLAPSE

CLAMOR, S. C., May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Tragedy, stalking in the wake of comedy, today had turned Kershaw county into a county of mourning.

As the aftermath of a commencement play of the Cleveland school, eight miles from here, more than 73 persons, including whole families, are dead, with one person missing.

OFF LAMP EXPLODES

As the play reached its climax, an oil lamp on the stage was overturned and exploded. In an instant the stage was a mass of flames.

Panic seized the audience of 800 parents, brothers, sisters and relatives of the graduating class, came to honor the youngsters that had crowded the little auditorium.

There was a concerted rush for the single exit that led to a narrow wooden stairway. The weight of the mass was too much for the steps and they collapsed, hurling scores in a tangled mass, numbers being crushed to death.

IN A BREATH, IT SEEMED TO PERSONS who escaped, the entire building was wrapped in flames. And within an hour, the building was little more than a heap of smoldering ashes, the funeral pyre of more than three and a half score of Kershaw county citizens.

Every Home in County Affected

Nearly every home in Kershaw county was affected by the disaster. Many families had gone to witness the playlet and some of them are numbered among the victims. Five injured are in the hospital here, but all are too badly hurt to talk about it.

Women and Children Trampled

In the panic which followed the explosion, little effort apparently was made to fight the flames which quickly communicated to the dry timber of the little 40-foot frame school building. Mothers with children in their arms were trampled under foot. Young and old fought alike for exit.

When the stairway collapsed, many were impaled on the jagged timbers and others were pinned down by the weight of bodies above them. Those who had made their way out of the building turned at once to aid the victims, but they found little opportunity to do so, the only exit except windows being cut off.

Seeing the hopelessness of their position, a number of persons jumped from the windows, suffering broken bones and other injuries. Several mothers hurled their children into open hands below.

NEW YORK, May 18.—A steamship speed record between New York and Cherbourg was set today by the British steamer Majestic, with an average of 21.75 miles an hour, line officials were informed in a cable message from Commander Sir Bertram Hayes, commander.

PRINCE OF ROCKFELLER DEAD

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 18. (By the Associated Press).—The prince of the oil industry, John D. Rockefeller, died today after a six months' illness from a cancer of the throat. He was 84 years old.

OLD MAN TELLS COURT HE WAS ROBBED OF $4000 AT FORT HILL PARK

Sarkis Apkarian, aged 78 years, appearing as defendant in a non-support case in the district court this morning, told Judge Bright, through an interpreter, that he "went on a drink" about three weeks ago, fell asleep in Fort Hill park with $4000 in his pocket, and awoke to discover that the money was missing. These circumstances were made following the testimony of the defendant that he was "drunk" despite the fact that he had $4000 in his possession until his fatal commotion with the beverage that severed him from his bank-roll.

The complaint in the case, Apkarian's wife, 63 years old, said she and her husband have been living in this city for 11 years. For the past seven months, she said, she has been living with her son, with the husband residing with his son by a former marriage, in Charles street. The couple lived together with the son for some time. The woman said, but frequent quarreling led to the disruption of the union, and the son with the consent of the 78-year-old husband, ordered her to leave the house. Since then she alleges, she has received no money for support and is too feeble to work herself.

Apkarian told the court that he worked steadily in Lawrence until the strike there 3 years ago, when he came to Lowell and, contracting sickness, he took up his abode with his wife and son in Charles street. He never fully recovered from the effects of his sickness, he said, and could not return to work. Drawing $2000 from one Lawrence bank and $2000 from another, he continued to carry it around with him in his own personal safety vault, his pocket, and managed to hold onto it until the Fort Hill incident. He was asked if he took Miss Stilton, local police-woman, or Mrs. Nibbogan, a social worker, that he gave the money to his son, who is now well established in a prosperous business in Boston. He denied that he made such a statement, characterizing the true one of the Fort Hill story as the true one. The court ruled differently, and on a finding of guilty, the case was continued one week for sentence.

STAR ATHLETE HELD IN JAIL

Said to Have Told Young Woman He Knew All
"About the Mount Case"

Aroused Youth Steadfastly Denies Statements Attributed to Him

CHICAGO, May 18.—Investigation into the disappearance of Leighton Mount, Northwestern university student, that gained impetus with the detention of Charles "Chuck" Palmer, star athlete, today center on a story told by Mrs. Violet Bachman, his former friend.

On the strength of Mrs. Bachman's charge that Palmer had told her he knew all "about the Mount case," the star football, baseball, basketball and track athlete, was seized at his fraternity house and is being held incommunicado in jail. Palmer steadfastly denied the statement attributed to him and repeated his denial when confronted with Mrs. Bachman, formerly Miss Violet Lawson.

"I never talked to her about Mount and I don't know anything about him," Palmer said. His chief concern seemed not in his detention, without formal charge, but whether he will be released in time to pitch for Northwestern in its baseball game with Purdue university tomorrow.

Today an attorney for Palmer plans to institute habeas corpus proceedings. The attorney, Palmer's father, and his fiancée, were refused permission to visit him last night.

Mrs. Bachman told authorities that Palmer had escorted her on two occasions, once in September and again in November, 1921, Palmer admitted that portion of her story, explaining that he met Mrs. Bachman when he was driving for a pie company during the summer of 1921.

Three other developments in the Mount case came while authorities were questioning Palmer. Abbott L. Fletcher, an attorney of Minneapolis, who came here to investigate the student's disappearance, announced that he had talked with two students who saw Mount alive after the class rush of Sept. 21, 1921.

"There is no question that Mount is either alive now or that he committed suicide," Mr. Fletcher said. He indicated as his belief that authorities have the names of the two students.

Mrs. J. L. Mount, who identified as that of her son a skeleton found under an Evanston pier, reported to authorities that word had reached her that skeleton supposed to have covered the investigation was being removed. An investigation was ordered.

The other development was a letter received at the state's attorney's office signed "Leighton Mount." It was written on stationery of a Minneapolis hotel but authorities placed little credence in it.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Picture a young woman, impulsive, accustomed to having her own way, along with a wounded lover in his cabin in the Maine woods. And remember that their whole future hangs on the necessity of one of them sailing to a distant point and preventing the passage of certain machinery that their enemies are trying to get in. That is only one of the almost countless situations in "Dreams For Sale" that are drawing capacity audiences to the popular Opera House this week. "Dreams For Sale" is without doubt the greatest theatrical offering that has as yet been presented this season. It has lots of laughs and there are moments when a tear trembles on the eyelid. All of the favorites are well cast and you are bound to enjoy their work this week. Seats are now on sale at the box office.

Next week, Purcell week, Mr. Lutzinger brings to Lowell one of the greatest attractions of the year. Name: O'Neil, America's greatest tragedienne and one of the world's brightest stars, will be seen in "The Passing of Mr. Quin" which is the biggest attraction that this state has appeared in for years. Supporting Miss O'Neil will be Alfred Hickman, probably as well known on the stage, and the Lutzinger Stock Players who have delighted Lowell theatregoers all season. And what is more there will be absolutely no advance in prices despite the fact that never before has Miss O'Neil appeared in this play at less than $2.50 prices. Seats are now on sale. Make your reservations immediately.

D. F. KRITIKS THEATRE
"Thank You Doctor" will do you good. Go to the Kritik theatre either today or tomorrow and see it. Eleanor Hicks and Chester Clute are the leading figures in this crook farce, and their work is exceedingly good on this bill, too is Tom Smith, one of the most original funny men seen here this season. He is a real attraction. For a slice of musical comedy and all of its trappings remember there are Sticks Tracey and Carl McBride, who are of first rate calibre. Helen Moretti sings exceptionally well, and among the other acts of the week are Arch Stanley, merry monologue; Joe and Willie, comic fun and songs, The Bentons, in eighth.

THE STRAND
"Tom Mix in Arabia" is guaranteed to provide more genuine thrills and surprises than any of Mix's pictures that have gone before. This is a broad statement, but it is true, nevertheless. You will say so when you see it. "A Woman of No Importance," the famous screen story and play by Oscar Wilde, which was recently adapted for the screen, is a dramatic offering of real merit. Those who are in a position to judge, unhesitatingly proclaim this screen creation one of the most interesting of its kind shown on any screen. Besides these two features, there is a comedy, "Al St. John in 'Young and Bunchy,'" which provides variety to a wholly good bill. Add to this the usual Strand comfort in enjoying a picture program, and you have ideal conditions for such an entertainment.

NEW JEWEL
"The Hottentot," described as an "ultra-society racing drama," is the feature attraction booked for the New Jewel theatre in Merrimack street today and tomorrow. The leading roles are played by Douglas MacLean and Madge Bellamy. Other features of the current bill include the latest episodes of the two serials, "Oregon Trail" and "18 Days Around the World," and a comedy, "What Next" with Eddie Barry and an all-star cast.

MERRIMACK SQUARE
There remain only a few opportunities for Lowell people to see "Racing Hearts," the great automobile racing drama, now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre, with Agnes Ayres in the leading role. Alice Brady in "The Leopardess," is the other feature. Beginning Sunday and continuing all next week the feature attraction will be "Safety Last," Harold Lloyd's latest and greatest comedy. This is the first seven-reel comedy ever made by any star.

RIALTO THEATRE
Douglas Fairbanks in the great production, "The Mollycoddle" is the feature of a double feature program opening at the Rialto theatre this afternoon and continuing for the remainder of the week. The other big production is "The Breaking Point," in which an all-star cast performs. The supporting attractions are also exceedingly good.

Bandits in New Attack

SHANGHAI, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Chinese bandits last night attacked Tawenong, a town 80 miles north of Nanchang, and seized a number of captives, according to a report received here.

SHANGHAI, May 18. (By the Associated Press).—Lloyd Lehrbas, an American newspaperman, who was in the Shanghai-Peking express train wrecked by bandits near Nanchang 21 days ago, but who escaped before the foreign captives were taken into the Shantung hills, has arrived in Shanghai with the prediction that unless there are unforeseen developments, the prisoners will be released in 10 days or two weeks.

He quoted Marcel Oliver Rembe, the French captive, who was in Tawenong, as saying on a brief "parade" from the bandit stronghold, as saying:
"I am satisfied that on the one side."

eat suspicious move on our part or by the Chinese troops, the bandits will kill one or two of us, and send out
the bodies."

Lehrbas intends to return to Tawenong shortly. Negotiations with the bandits are proceeding, he said, with everything possible being done. Communications to the foreign hostages still can be forwarded from Tawenong to the new and more remote camp of the bandits, Lehrbas added. Regarding the censorship, he explained that delays in the transmission of telegrams from Tawenong was due chiefly to the single wire, manned by a 60-year-old operator, who had to handle floods of official messages, principally to and from Peking.

NORTH BILLERICA

The second May procession in honor of the Blessed Virgin to be conducted by St. Andrew's parish, North Billerica, will be held, weather permitting, Sunday afternoon, May 20, ment, the event will take place the following Sunday. The line of march will be along the streets adjacent to the church. Previously, the entire parish school will be in line, together with delegations from the different parish societies. The May queen will be Agnes Sullivan. The procession will close with benediction in the church.

"You Know You Belong to Somebody Else"

If there is any one thing that has made Nora Bayes popular, it's her way of singing her songs right at you. Sometimes she is full of burlesque, mimicry, laughter. Sometimes there's a sob in her throat, but always she's singing to you. "You Know You Belong to Somebody Else," Columbia New Process Record A-3862, is a waltz song with a bit of heart throbs that Nora does deliciously. She sings it with a fine artistic sense, in a richly musical voice which records with delightful naturalness.

You'll be enthusiastic over this selection and you'll like "Dearest," the encore on the other side, as well. Both are Nora at her charming best.

But this record, from the June program, is only a sample of the good things in this newest Columbia release. All of the new records listed here are Columbia New Process Records—made with the wonderfully quiet surface that eliminates the annoying scratch and scrape of needle noise.

Tear out this list, take it to your Columbia Dealer and listen in on this delightful program of latest dance hits, newest songs and choice symphony selections.

All Columbia Records can be played on any phonograph.

Only in Columbia New Process Records will you find a positive freedom from distressing needle grind. The process is patented. No one else can produce anything even resembling Columbia's construction and improved surface.

SOUTHERN MILL MEN

Agree on Undesirability of Influx of Northern Labor of Foreign Extraction

RICHMOND, Va., May 18. Southern textile manufacturers are agreed on the "extreme undesirability" of any influx of northern labor of foreign extraction. W. D. Adams, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers association declared yesterday in his annual report.

"Our industry is growing so rapidly within itself," he said, "that while today we may have a sufficiency of native help, the day is not far distant, in the judgment of many when there will be a scarcity if not an actual dearth. Any considerable accretion from without to the southern industry, with consequent demands upon our native labor supply, would probably result in a general shortage for which there would be but one solution from the standpoint of the northern mill and that would be to bring in outside help—and the one thing that we are all definitely agreed on is the extreme undesirability of any influx whatsoever of northern labor of foreign extraction." W. B. Beattie of Greenville, S. C., was elected president of the association, succeeding E. C. Hutchinson of Mount Holly, S. C.

MINSTREL SHOW MEMBERS BANQUETED

Lowell Grange, 355, tendered a banquet and reception to the members of the minstrel show who took part in the Grange show held recently at the Highland hall last night. General dancing followed the appetizing meal, which was much enjoyed by the amateur performers.

The committee in charge of the reception was headed by Worthy Lecturer Nellie B. Parnum as chairman and was as follows: Alice Kittredge, Blanche Jelley, Edith Carpenter, Any Farley, Mary O'Neil, Martha Blackall, Jennie Jones, Mabel La Pointe, Ida Farney and Edward La Pointe.

The principals in the cast, and the members of the chorus, who were the guests of the Grangers, were: John Powers, James Jones, Eva Lewis, Louise Russell, Leon Wells, Margaret Sheen, James Kennedy, Maude Chandler, Charles Clancy, Gladys Ireland, Bertha Choquette, Lillian Powers, William McGrath, Marion Kennedy, Lowe, Margery Wells and Richard Sousa.

In the chorus were Misses Gertrude Trunor, Blanche Hubbard, Edna Hildbrand, Marcelle Shea, Doris Helen Jarvis, Dorothy Spencer, Helen Hovey, Mildred Holmes, Annie Holland, Mary Hume, Katherine McEvoy, Alice Paturet, Katherine Choquette, Mildred Wells, and George Redding, Raymond Kennedy, Eugene Daquette, Forley Knight, Walter Choquette, Scott Hume and Robert Gaudier.

Rev. J. P. Kennedy, D.D., was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. held at the Association building this afternoon.

CLERGYMEN PAID LESS THAN DITCH DIGGERS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Declaring that the compensation of Presbyterian ministers is less, on the average, than that of alien ditch diggers, and that this situation is a moral and economic crime, Will H. Hays, speaking as an elder of the Presbyterian church at its annual assembly here last night, launched a drive to add $10,000,000 to the ministers' pension fund.

The address of the president of the Modern Picture Producers and Distributors of America and former republican national committee chairman, was delivered at the popular meeting, which closed the first day's work of the 957 assembly commissioners, representing 301 presbyteries and 22 foreign missions.

Mr. Hays declared the question of ministers' salaries is an economic problem of the utmost gravity and that the present lack of worldly compensation is the reason for the dearth of young men candidates for the Christian ministry.

"Religion," Mr. Hays said, "is the one essential industry in the world. Without the perpetuity of the church, he declared, the republic would die."

"Ministers," he continued, "make certain the security of property, for if men cease to believe in God, they cease to respect property. If we would have the church of Jesus Christ preserved as the holding thread in our moral, social and economic fabric and the one impelling element of causation to our progress, if we are to progress, we simply must take hold of this matter of the underpaid preachers and adjust it."

SUPERIOR COURT
The case of Thornton England vs Samuel Brickman, an action of tort by which the plaintiff seeks to recover for damage to his automobile as a result of a collision between his car and that of the defendant in May, 1921, which was started at the civil session of the superior court yesterday, was resumed this morning. It was stated this morning that the case may be brought to a close late this afternoon.

BONAR LAW CONSULTED SPECIALIST IN PARIS

PARIS, May 18.—(By the Associated Press) Andrew Bonar Law, the British prime minister, visited Paris for medical as well as political consultation today. The British statesman, the newspaper adds, saw the specialist, Sir Thomas Harder, a physician in the London Cancer hospital, who came over from London to make an examination.

The physician found that the premier's condition had resulted in no improvement to his throat; in fact the loss of voice is to complete that he was obliged to refuse Premier Poincaré's invitation to lunch and dine at the foreign office.

The Journal says that after a conference with Lord Beaverbrook, Mr. Bonar Law plans to return to France to try a new cure at Aix-les-Bains.

TENDERED RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR

Rev. Willard A. Kilmer, formerly of the West Fitchburg M. E. church, and recently appointed pastor of the Centralville M. E. church, was tendered a reception in the church vestry last night by the members of his congregation, under the direction of the Ladies Aid society. Rev. Mr. Kilmer, who succeeded Rev. Karl P. Melzer, has occupied the Centralville pastorate since April 1, but the reception was delayed because of repairs being done in the parish house.

The reception hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. Rev. and Mrs. Kilmer and family received the members of the congregation in front of the stage. The pastor was assisted in the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garmon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gill and Everett, Clarence and Thurston Kilmer. Among the guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Leslie C. Boukes, of the Church of All Nations, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Otto of the St. Paul's M. E. church, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kennedy of the Highland Union church, and Rev. and Mrs. Charles D. Piper, of the Fifth Street Baptist church.

HALTS SOLICITATION OF LABOR IN SOUTH

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18.—Gov. McLeod yesterday called upon sheriffs in the state to enforce the law prohibiting the solicitation of labor in South Carolina, except upon the payment of the heavy license fees.

The fee required of labor agents is $500 for the state and $2000 for each county in which the solicitor proposes to operate. The governor's letter was prompted by the activity of agents who have been soliciting negro labor for northern and eastern industrial cities.

FROM THE TWILIGHT TO THE WITCHING HOUR

Joseph Duffy, pitcher-manager of the K. of C. baseball team, not satisfied with glory and fame in athletics has turned to dramatics to win more laurels. He will appear in the cast which is to present "The Witching Hour" next Monday evening in the Lowell Opera House, the proceeds from which are to be used in defraying expenses for the new Knights of Columbus headquarters in Dutton street. "Joe" will play the part of Lew Ellinger an "I should worry" professional gambler who in thirty years has lost $300,000. The funny thing about Ellinger is that he finds a man who can read the thoughts of others and sees an opportunity of using this man in a "game in Cincinnati where it would be like taking candy away from a baby." It makes Lew feel pretty small, however, when he learns he has been playing his head off many times against a man who is able to read the thoughts of others. People are assured of seeing the part of Lew Ellinger well acted for "Joe" will play it just as well as he plays baseball.

U. S. THREATENS DRASTIC ACTION

TSIAOSCHWANG, Province of Shanghai, China, May 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Get the foreign captives out of the grip of the Suchow bandits and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action," was the ultimatum laid down to Chinese government officials here late yesterday by Dr. Jacob G. Schurman, American minister to China.

The American diplomat, who stopped off here on his way from Shanghai to Peking, told Chinese officials who are congregated here to negotiate with the bandits that unless the foreign prisoners are released immediately serious international complications would result.

"End the delays and confusion between various departments of the government," he said. "Get the captives out and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action taken."

Relations between the Chinese government and the representatives of foreign countries is described on all hands as "strained" as a result of the bandit situation.

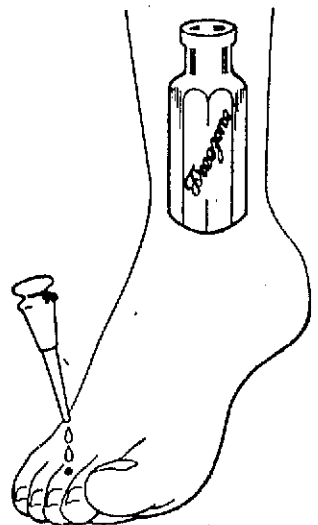

Dr. Schurman kept in constant cable communication with Washington during his stay in Shanghai. J. B. Powell and other captives have sent word from their mountain prison that all the prisoners are beginning to feel the strain. Some are ill from insufficient and unaccustomed food. Others, forced to make new marches, with their feet unshod from the bruises and cuts of the rocky trail from the scene of the hold-up near Suchow, are suffering intensely.

The bandits charge that the Chinese troops have not been withdrawn, despite official assertions to the contrary. This apparently constitutes the greatest hitch to the negotiations for the captives' release.

RADIOGRAPHS

MAP SHOWING THE COURSE FOLLOWED BY AMUNDSEN IN THE MAUD, AS REPORTED BY RADIO, AND INSET, SOREN SYVERTSEN, THE RADIO OPERATOR.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS FOLLOWED BY WIRELESS

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, May 17.—Out of Spitzbergen, northernmost habitable point on the globe, come wireless reports of the progress of the Amundsen Arctic expedition across the north pole. Before the days of radio, folks at home waited months and even years before any word came in from such out of the way places as the Arctic and Antarctic regions. Now, thanks to the new space and time destroying science, Amundsen is able to keep in touch with the world from his ship, the Maud, wherever he might be.

Sitting at the transmitting instrument, Soren Syvertsen, Amundsen's radio expert, is able to report the Maud's movements through the permanent wireless station at Spitzbergen. At Washington, the United States weather bureau gets these reports after they had been relayed from Spitzbergen through Kristiana and Paris to the naval station across the Potomac.

Course Traced
Thus, by being in constant touch by wireless, the scientists here can trace the course of the Maud across the pole. Thus far she is shown to have covered approximately two-fifths of the distance to the pole, according to Edward H. Bowles, chief forecaster of the weather bureau, who has studied the Amundsen wireless reports.

"The drift apparently is carrying the Maud westward above the north coast of Siberia," Bowles says. "That radio communication is now by way of Spitzbergen instead of Nome does not, however, mean that she is closer to Spitzbergen, but that means for relaying the messages via Kristiana are much better.

"The Spitzbergen station, which is an outpost for weather observations, is in communication twice daily with Kristiana. In a direct line the Maud's position, when last reported, was just under 1000 miles from the pole. The distance covered from Nome would be about 700 to 800 miles."

Short Messages
The slow progress of the expedition apparently has been without serious incident to date, as the reports merely give the position of the vessel and a "hail" call.

Whether the Maud's progress is altogether due to the movement of an ice field in which she is frozen fast, or whether she has broken open water in which she is sailing, her own course are unknown. The intention of Captain Amundsen was to lie up for the winter near Wrangel Island, permit his vessel to freeze fast in the ice and then to drift polewards with the ice field. His theory is that the ice fields above northeastern Siberia are carried gradually northward and across the pole.

Scientists studying the movement of the Maud, as reported by the occasional wireless messages to Spitzbergen, are particularly interested in the rapidity and angle of the movement that

FOR AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Big Drive Started for Agricultural Fair Here—Liberty Hall Meeting

The members of the Lowell Driving club held a meeting in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, last evening, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of conducting an old-fashioned agricultural fair at Golden Cove park on Aug. 28-31 and Sept. 1. The attendance was not very large, but those present were all very enthusiastic over the proposition to revive the fair that in past years were so ably and successfully conducted by the old Middlesex North Agricultural society, among the most enthusiastic for such an event in this city in the fall was Congressman John Jacob Rogers, who stated that a fair would not only be beneficial to those interested in agriculture, but to those in business, while at the same time it would be good advertising.

A larger attendance was expected, to be sure, but other attractions in the city and the ideal weather prevented a great many from being present. The meeting was presided over by Hon. Arthur W. Coburn, a former state senator, whose home is in Dracut, and in his opening address he explained in detail the plans of the club, namely to conduct an open fair that would last four days. He also stated that farmers and producers of this city and neighboring towns will be asked to provide some exhibit, and of course, the old style horse race would be one of the features of the event. Mr. Coburn deplored the fact that the hall was not filled with friends of the organization, but he said he realized that the evening was a most pleasant one for an outdoor walk or ride.

He introduced as the first speaker, Congressman Rogers, who, he said, was always interested in any movement beneficial to the community at large. Mr. Rogers said he would not attempt to qualify as an agricultural expert nor as a judge of horses, but he said he was very much interested in agricultural fairs. His address was in part as follows:

"No one can fail to believe in the idea of the country fair. Whenever one goes throughout the length and breadth of the country, Brockton is known for two things—its fair and its shoes. These things have advertised the city. But this is not the essential thing. The essential value of the agricultural fair is that it brings together the viewpoint of the people in the city and the viewpoint of the people in the country. One realizes this in attending these affairs when they are held throughout our state.

"Personally I have had my eyes opened to the viewpoint of the people in the country, when I make my trips to see my constituents in the congressional district which I represent. I do this when there is no summer session of congress and I have found that there is many times a real reason behind differences in opinion, that we of the city cannot understand. There is at present a wide divergence of views on daylight saving in the city and the country. We of the city are in favor of conservation of game laws, so that we can enjoy our Saturday hunting in the country at certain seasons, but just the other day, a farmer told me that the partridges are eating all the blossoms off his trees and he can do nothing about it, because the law protects the partridges. There are many cases like this. The two viewpoints must be reconciled through mutual understanding, for neither one can live without the other.

"The chance for mingling is a whole something. Agricultural fairs in New England will number just twice as many this year as they did in 1920 which shows that the demand for them is growing. We all recall the palmy days of the Middlesex North fairs at the old Fair Grounds and of the great crowds that came from all over the county and state.

"In the country-at-large we hear of the so-called 'Agricultural' fairs, but have organized to put across their particular aims. The farmers of the western states have learned that they must have organization like the industrial states to accomplish their ends and thing for both these elements to realize is that the best thing for the country is the main thing, and you cannot separate one section of the country from the other.

"Although speaking at fairs is pretty hard work, I think that emphasis should be made of the unification of city and town. In conclusion I would like to ask every one to do his best to see that we have an old-fashioned agricultural fair that will be a success in every way."

Mr. Trask of Waltham, connected with the Agricultural society, whose work brings him in various parts of the state, was the next speaker and he said an agricultural fair is an institution of great value. "In olden days," he said, "a fair's big drawing card was the horse race, but today the exhibition of agricultural products is of greater importance. These fairs should be more in the line of education." The speaker then pointed out the excellent agricultural work that is being done throughout the state by school children and he said he believed a fair properly conducted in Lowell would be a big success. Again referring to the school children, Mr. Trask said over 300 of them in this vicinity are enrolled in extension work and they are seeking an opportunity to exhibit their products in the fall. He concluded by saying that there was no question in his mind about the success of a fair in Lowell.

Deputy Commissioner
The last speaker of the evening was Leslie R. Smith, deputy commissioner of agriculture in this state, who represented his illustrated lecture on agricultural exhibitions given before the Lowell Driving club at its annual banquet a couple of months ago. In the course of his remarks Mr. Smith took occasion to compliment the city of Lowell on its beautiful Memorial Auditorium, which he said is second to none in New England and perhaps in the entire country.

Mr. Smith spoke interestingly on fairs that have been conducted in various parts of the state during the past two years and showed on the screen interesting and enjoyable pictures taken at these various events. He laid particular stress upon the agricultural building that was erected and is being maintained by the state in Springfield, while his views of Amherst agricultural college, a state institution were most pleasing. The speaker injected a few stories in his talk and his address proved very instructive and entertaining.

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside

External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.
The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of the cause is inside—bad circulation, send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.
J. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEMI-ROID and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEMI-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Green's drug store which will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

A RADIO MESSAGE

THE TINKER MAN LIFTED THE LID OFF A BIG BOX

"Sh!" said the Tinker Man softly, that his army was too small and to send him some new men at once. "What is it?" whispered Nancy and Nick, thumping up as quietly as two little mice and as curious as two little squirrels.

The Tinker Man lifted the lid off a big box that had just come to Bing-Bang Land, then clapped it right on again.

But not before the Twins had time to see rows and rows of brand-new tin soldiers with helmets on their heads and rifles in their hands.

"I don't want them to hear," whispered the Tinker Man. "I don't want these new soldiers to know that there is a war going on here, for they would jump right out of the box and go to help their comrades."

"Why don't you let them go?" asked Nick. "If one side wins then the war will be over."

"Oh, but don't you know that all the tin soldiers in Bing-Bang Land are for Christmas presents? A nice lot there will be if they keep on shooting each other's arms and legs off. No, sir, I'll just lay this box away carefully and not let these soldiers out at all. Then I'll have at least a few new ones for Santa that don't need patching."

Just then the radio on his table went bing-bing-bing-bing.

Nick put the thingamajig over his ears to get the message.

"It's General Hobbledohy talking," he said. "He wants to know if his other tin soldiers have come yet. He says he wants to the Toy Maker."

SOCIAL BY HEBREW DRAMATIC CLUB

The season's final social gathering of the Hebrew Dramatic club was given in Eagles' hall Wednesday evening and was attended with the same success that other offerings of the club have met with in the past.

The entertainment program opened with an interpretive dance by Miss Doris Conley, who had to respond to an encore. Meyer Arlinaky and Meyer Lipchitz gave an original sketch and Mary Cohen a comic reading entitled "Betty at the Baseball Game". Max Cohen, president of the club, was the recipient of a brief case, the gift of the club. William Sydenham made the presentation and Mr. Cohen responded fittingly. In the beauty contest held during the evening, Leonard Goldman was the winner with Meyer Arlinaky and Meyer Lipchitz receiving honorable mention.

After the completion of the entertainment program, general dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Several features were put on during the dancing, one of them being an elimination dance which was won by Albert Hatze and Alice Kaplan.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of the Misses Sandier, Mankel, Klegerman and Meyer Arlinaky.

Former Governor of Biscay Assassinated

LEON, Spain, May 18.—Fernando Regueral, former governor of the province of Biscay, was assassinated last evening as he was leaving his home. Regueral was governor of Biscay during the period terrorism prevailed in Spain, and it is thought that his stern measures against syndicalism culminated in his murder by members of that faction.

Broncho-Busting Beauty Gets Into the Follies

PEGGY SHANNON

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, May 18.—Now it's the broncho-busting daughter of the plains who's to be our new ideal of beauty. Peggy Shannon is the reason. Peggy, who was born in Pine Bluff, Ark., came east to see the lights. She's here to stay, Flo Ziegfeld's choice of 10 applicants for a vacancy in his chorus. Some say it was her personality Peggy saw it was riding a cow pony mixed with generous measure of skinning the cat.

"I didn't know it at the time," she says, "but being born in Arkansas is wonderful training for a dancer."

"First, you ride a pony for hours. That gives you poise and rhythm."

"Then you throw a lariat occasionally. That gives you graceful arms."

"Then you keep a sharp lookout for rattlesnakes. That teaches you concentration."

"I did all of these and in addition I used to swim and climb trees and skin the cat."

Sixteen is the age of this newest rival of Venus. Her hair is raven, her eyes hazel, she weighs 108 pounds and stands 5 ft. 2 in. in her dancing slippers.

The dispatch was forwarded to this city by La Nacion's Rivera correspondent. The rebels are reported to have abandoned a large quantity of arms and ammunition, as well as all their ambulances, many horses and a cannon. Two of their leaders were captured. BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE ACCEPTS CITY ENGINEER'S PROGRAM FOR STREET WORK

The acceptance of City Engineer Stephen J. Kearney's revised program of street work for the remainder of the year, subject to certain restrictions in regard to reinforced concrete, and granite block work, was the most important business taken up by the board of public service at its meeting at city hall yesterday afternoon.

This restriction is that reinforced concrete or granite block over concrete roads will not be built in front of vacant lots where service, either water, gas, sewer, electric or anything else that would necessitate the digging up of the street, is not entered onto the property, and the acceptance reads that "the board accepts the program providing that any building program owners will put in their service connections first." As Chairman Murphy said, "If they want good roads they must put in their service first." It was George Powers who made the suggestion by stating that he objected to voting in favor of any reinforced concrete roadwork being done in front of any vacant lots where service has not been taken first, but he agreed that if the restriction was put on making them take the service even though they do not plan to build at once he would vote for the program's acceptance. He further said that no city engineer nowadays would approve such a program without similar restriction, and Mr. Kearney agreed with him.

Chairman Dennis J. Murphy put the question of acceptance up to vote with the restriction added and the vote was unanimously in favor of acceptance.

Chairman Murphy read a letter from the civil service in regard to Mr. Gartry's employment as temporary storekeeper at the city stables and requesting that as a new eligible list was ready, Mr. Gartry's services be discontinued with. The three top men on the new list were James P. Fitzgerald, of 18 Willie street; Leo T. Robbins and George Birkenhead. As Mr. Fitzgerald is a disabled veteran of the World war and as the law reads that when such a veteran is on the list he must be given preference, the board had no choice in regard to this appointment. Mr. Murphy stated that there was one matter that should be made clear to all who have anything to do with the city stables. "Eugene P. Toomey," he said, "is the stock-keeper at the stables and he is a very valuable employee. I want it understood that this Mr. Fitzgerald will act under the supervision of Mr. Toomey and that his work will be arranged by the stock-keeper, and I am also sure that Mr. Toomey needs help on this work."

A letter from City Engineer Kearney was read concerning the financial condition of the street department at the present time and the matter was discussed in regard to this matter there was considerable discussion as to the funds on hand for street lighting. In the first four months of the year, $100,000 was spent for this purpose and only $88,000 remains to pay lighting bills for the rest of the year. When the appropriation for street lighting was taken up, a sum of $2000 was cut off before the budget was accepted. This $2000, it seems, was absolutely necessary if the new ornamental lights were to be used this year. As the matter now stands, according to Chairman Murphy and the other members of the board, the board of public service will not give orders for the new lights to be turned on until the necessary money is appropriated. This means that all the new lights erected on Lucy Larcom park, and also in other parts of the city, will remain dark until some $2000 is voted to pay the bills that will be incurred by lighting them.

The report of the boiler inspector on the condition of the boilers in the West Sixth street pumping station was read. This report indicated that two of the boilers were in bad condition and should be renewed. Messrs. Bowers and Leary were appointed to inspect these boilers and report at the next meeting of the board.

A Mrs. Robert Carlson of East Chelmsford appeared before the board complaining of an excessive water bill charged against one of her houses. The last bill rendered her was $122 and the meter reader who took the readings stated that conditions in the toilets and water exits were bad, and that she had been notified as to their condition. The board granted her a reduction of 50 per cent. on the bill but warned her that it would not do so again.

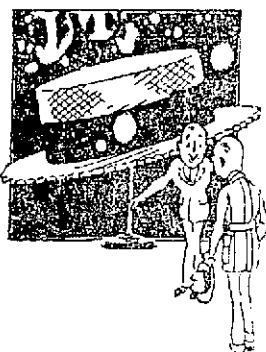

A number of petitions for street and sidewalk improvement were referred for action at a later date.

Frank Stearns, councillor from Ward 1, appeared with several petitions concerning street and sidewalk improvements, mainly on Beacon, Richard and Christian streets. He also spoke of his motion at the last meeting of the city council regarding the Durkee house, and this matter came in for considerable discussion, it being the consensus of opinion that any action towards rebuilding the house would fall on the shoulders of the lands and buildings department, not on the board of public service, as Mr. Stearns suggested. No action was taken but Chairman Murphy struck a responsive chord in saying "Who will take care of it when it is fixed up?" This question remained unanswered and the meeting adjourned at 5:20.

WOMEN MAY BE STRONG

and enjoy life whether in the home or business world if they can keep at bay those ailments peculiar to their sex. If every woman realized how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes such symptoms as backache, headaches, nervousness, and irritability, they would be healthier, happier and stronger. If you suffer from any form of female illness, why don't you try it? It will pay you to do so.—Adv.

How Can Moller's Sell for Less?

You have probably asked this same question yourself and wondered how it is possible for MOLLER'S to sell for less. The fact is that MOLLER'S can and does sell for less because it is doing business at a lower expense than any other furniture house in the country doing a similar volume of business.

There are several reasons for this:

In the first place, MOLLER'S, while centrally and conveniently located, is just out of the high rent district. Secondly, having a tremendous outlet with two big stores, our buying power enables us to buy in large quantities which, naturally, brings us lower prices. Third, our low overhead, due to our system of conducting business, eliminates all unnecessary expenses. And, fourth, our policy is to satisfy our customers, thereby making MOLLER'S the kind of a store you like to trade with. This increases our volume of business and still further reduces our overhead costs. These savings are all passed along to our customers.

REMEMBER, every piece of furniture carries our guarantee of satisfaction.

LOWELL ADVERTISING CLUB MEETING

The Lowell Advertising club held one of its most largely attended meetings last night in the Girls' City club to celebrate the coming of a new president and also to boost Lowell and advertising the Ad club.

The supper was the first important thing to be dealt with and from 8:30 to 7:30 nothing else was thought of. Just as soon as the tables had been cleared, however, Vice-President Robert Wood called upon Horatius Leggat to lead the meeting in community singing. After several selections had been rendered, a double-mixed quartet sang "Yes—We Have No Bananas" several times and graphically illustrated the fact that they had plenty of bananas by throwing them around.

The installation of Edward J. Cooney as president of the club was another feature of the meeting. Mr. Cooney, after certifying his ability to act as president by giving several harmonious solos, was duly installed in the chair and took charge of the meeting.

The first duty that he undertook was to present to Miss Alicia Joyce, the retiring secretary of the club, $25 in gold as a token of appreciation from all the members of the Ad club. He also announced that Miss Irene Mathews, an employee of Arthur J. Roux, had been obtained to act as secretary and that her name will be brought up for certification at the next meeting.

Mr. Cooney told of the arrangements being made for the convention of Advertising Clubs at Atlantic City next month and he urged all members of the Lowell club who could possibly get away to attend the convention.

Frank Heard made quite a lengthy appeal for the support of the club for the improvement of the Merrimack river, a hearing of which will be held in Washington next month. The club voted to back this proposition and to notify Congressman Rogers, Lowell's delegate at the house, of its stand.

Arthur K. Price was then introduced and he gave a very interesting and educational illustrated lecture on China. Mr. Price returned from China but a short time ago and he is thoroughly familiar with affairs going on there now. He pointed the country highly and appeared to be very optimistic as to its future, regardless of the notoriety it is getting now through the actions of bandits. At the end of the lecture, a rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Price.

Following the lecture, the chairs were removed from the main floor and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

The Cheney Girls' orchestra presented music during the supper and also for the general dancing.

The receipts, an almost exact list that cannot fit, has been photographed in New Zealand.

LADIES' AUXILIARY A.O.U.
The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A.O.U., was held Tuesday evening in the main hall. President Catherine Giffney presided. Several new members were initiated. After the business meeting a whist party was held and the prizes were awarded the following: Maria J. Markham, Mary Curran, Catherine McKernan, Mrs. John O'Grady, Mary O'Grady, John O'Grady, William Higgins, Mrs. Schofield.

ROOSEVELT'S TROPHIES BANISHED FROM WHITE HOUSE BY PRESIDENT HARDING

By N.E.A. Service.
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Trophies of the chase, prize possessions of Theodore Roosevelt, former Nimrod president, have been banished from the White House by President Harding.

I happened on them the other day in one of the workrooms down at the National Museum, where they are to be overhauled before being added to the exhibits. A massive buffalo head, two immense moose heads, heads of deer, elk, bear, big horn sheep.

the life of any sentient creature," he explained.
But, speaking of Roosevelt's mementoes at the White House, wonder what's become of the big stick? Will that find its way to the museum, too?

Carrie Chapman Catt's new book, "Woman Suffrage and Politics," threatens to open anew the scarcely healed breach between the old and new wings in the National League of Women Voters.

The newer blood in the organization, which for most part has come in since votes for women were secured, wants the organization to be active and forget old animosities stirred up during the fight for suffrage. Their viewpoint is that new women's right to vote is established in using the ballot intelligently, whether they originally believed in the desirability of equal suffrage or not.

In her book, however, Mrs. Catt, reminiscing over old campaign days, says some rather caustic things about the anti-suffragists.

"Bad for the cause," say the women of the new wing, wagging their heads ominously, and reminding the fires under the organization's internal political pot.

Maybe Senor Don Juan Francisco de Cardenas, chamberlain to his majesty the king of Spain and minister resident and counselor of the Spanish embassy in Washington, is a diplomat, but appearances are against him.

According to tradition, a diplomat moves by indirection, slowly and circumspectly.

No delay, little circumlocution there! Apparently Spanish love laughs at diplomacy as well as at locksmiths.

namont of the Newspapermen's Golf club has caused about all the Washington correspondents to purchase knee pants and golf clubs and try out their hands to see if maybe they weren't embryo champs. If not champs, anyway they figure they stand a chance to break into the presidential class—in golf.

One outstanding holdout, however, is Gus Karger, dean of the active correspondents corps and former publicity advisor to Wm. H. Taft.

"Not me," says Gus, when asked to join the growing colony of golf bugs. "I get my exercise by a daily dozen each morning. And if any of the club-swimming athletes don't think I'm a good man, here's an open invite to any one of 'em as wants to tackle me."

Titles, ranging from "von" to higher ranks are being acquired by the German "new-rich" by the simple process of getting a member of the old nobility to adopt them legally—at a price.

PAWTUCKET CHURCH

A very pleasant entertainment and supper was put on by the young women of the Pawtucket Congregational church last night in the church vestry and was attended by a large gathering of friends and members of the church. The supper was served at 6.30 under the direction of Miss Ethel Cowdrey, assisted by Mrs. Charles Estabrook, Mrs. Frank Cowdrey and a score of young women of the church. Following the supper, a playlet entitled "The Two Masters" was put on by members of the missionary class of the church, coached by Miss Louisa Blanchard. Among those taking part in the play were the Misses Florence Cowdrey, Mildred Cameron, Esther Douglass, Anna Duren, Mollie Varnum and Viola Hawker.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

A verdict of $129.58 for the plaintiff was rendered yesterday, afternoon in the case of Peter de Silva of this city vs. William F. Merriam of Acton, an action of tort by which the plaintiff sought to recover for damages to his automobile as a result of a collision.

The case was tried at the civil session of the superior court.

FIRE ALARMS
The alarm from box 223, at 10.26 o'clock last evening was for a slight automobile fire at the corner of Central and Crosby streets. Earlier in the evening a still alarm was sent in for a blaze on the Aiken street dump, while late in the afternoon a telephone alarm was sent in for an awning fire at Liggett's drug store at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets.

Londoners are using less water. In January, 1923, the consumption per head was 24.9 gallons, which had decreased to 23.9 gallons in January of this year.

NO, THIS IS NOT MILE. LENGLEN!

Miss Evelyn Beekingham put every ounce of energy into this drive during the play for the singles championship of North London. Notice that the entire body, from toe to clenched fist, was under tension as the racket met the ball. This picture is quite reminiscent of those showing Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion, in action.

Kidnap and Beat Student fore he decided what definitely to do about the beating, they gave him after they kidnapped him yesterday.

Apologies from three of the seven who abducted him because they construed as unpatriotic and disloyal a letter he wrote to the Spectator, a Columbia publication, were in his hands last night. It was a joint letter signed by Harry W. Scharrer, of Iowa, a sophomore, and Charles Dana Benkert, of New York and Arthur F. Ackerman, of Passaic, N. J., both juniors.

The trio who apologized said their motives were patriotic but without due consideration of the ethics involved. They are members, it is understood, of the reserve officers' training corps.

The names of the other four were not known to Werner. All he knew was that the seven were masked and called him from his room at midnight yesterday, pounced upon him, blindfolded and shackled him and took him out in the country where they beat him with sticks and barrel staves after they had put him through a cross examination on loyalty to the nation.

and told his captors so. He also is an English teacher in Pennsylvania State college and a graduate of Muhlenberg college of Allentown. He came to Columbia for a doctor's degree and interested himself in the activities of the student body.

Some time ago, groups of students in dormitories and fraternity houses were at a review of marching students of the reserve officers' training corps, and Major C. W. Foote, the commandant, wrote to the Spectator characterizing the perpetrators as disrespectful to the college, the flag, constitution and the army.

Werner replied to Major Foote through the Spectator, stating the students who were in the review, although he did not say whether he was one of them, he said any man had a right to applaud or jeer whom or what he pleased, adding, "someone should inform the major that the war is over."

The Spectator then published an editorial criticizing the students who mocked the review and Werner wrote another letter to the editor which was not printed but to which the Spectator "replied." The contents of Werner's second letter were well known on the campus Wednesday, though the means of distribution remained unknown.

Werner is a veteran of the Argonne.

TAYLOR GETS 3 YEARS

Former Warren Bank President Sent to Plymouth—Expresses Penitence

BOSTON, May 18.—Frank L. Taylor, former bricklayer who for a few weeks was president of the First National bank at Warren at a salary of $50 a week, pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to misapplication of securities of the bank valued at more than $200,000. He was sentenced by Judge Morris to serve three years in Plymouth county jail.

A second indictment against Taylor charging embezzlement of the securities was not pressed. Assistant U. S. Attorney John V. Sullivan told the court that in allowing Joseph B. Marcano of Chicago access to the vaults from which the securities were taken, Taylor had no intention of allowing them to be embezzled. In asking that Taylor be sent to Plymouth rather than Atlanta, Attorney Sullivan said the prisoner had a tendency to tuberculosis, and he believed Plymouth would be the better place for him.

Taylor, who was arrested in Chicago and brought here two months ago, was merely the tool of Marcano, the prosecuting attorney said. Marcano, described as the "arch-conspirator," was said to have used some of the proceeds of the sale of the Warren bank's securities to keep the Niagara Life Insurance Co. of Buffalo out of difficulties. Marcano has not been arrested. He and Abraham Goldman of Chicago, Marcano's father-in-law, were indicted in charge of aiding and abetting Taylor in misapplication and embezzlement of the securities. Goldman has not yet been tried.

While Taylor had knowledge of the irregular methods of the other two men there was no intent to embezzle, Attorney Sullivan said. "Taylor has made a full confession to me and he is only desirous of further aiding the government in placing the full responsibility on the culpable persons."

Taylor expressed penitence and said he desired "to right the wrong resulting from his wrongdoing."

WORTH MILLIONS

Only 14 but a multimillionaire! Florence Argall Yates, who recently came into a fortune of $12,000,000, probably is one of America's wealthiest children. The money was left by her father, Porter B. Yates of Milwaukee, head of the Yates Machine Works of Beloit and Ontario.

THE LEAGUE OF CATHOLIC WOMEN

The final meeting of the League of Catholic Women for the present season will be held in Memorial hall over the city library Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be featured by the annual election of officers and the reading of reports from the chairman of various committees. Mrs. Joseph W. Greene will have charge of a musical program.

WHOLE FAMILY PRAISE "DRECO"

"No More Liver Trouble, Gas or Sour Stomach in Our Family," Says Mrs. R. Greenaway of Wilkinsburg

That Dreco, the new herbal remedy is no respecter of age or sex, that it relieves and strengthens one and all alike, is convincingly proven by the experience of the Greenaway family residing at 1216 Glenn street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

"Some time ago I began reading about Dreco in the papers," writes Mrs. Greenaway, "and saw so many interesting cases that we all decided to give it a trial, for stomach and liver disorders, and as a general tonic. It's a general tonic, all right, you can see that in the increased grocery bills. I never saw such appetites as we have all developed. Liver and stomach troubles are new things of the past and the entire family, two girls and a boy, Mr. Greenaway and myself are in better health and spirits than we have ever been."

"If people only knew more about your wonderful medicine there would be at least one bottle of Dreco in every home."

To have perfect health we must have perfect digestion and healthy bowel action. When these organs become deranged, many symptoms are likely to appear. Take Dreco one week and satisfy yourself that it will do for you what it is doing for hundreds every day.

DRECO is being introduced to the people of Lowell by Green's Drug Store. Tell on them. Let them tell you of the merits of this wonderful product. They will honestly tell you whether or not they think DRECO will benefit you. Also Dreco is being sold in Nashua by Nashua Pharmacy Co., 175 Main st.—Adv.

HONESTY WILL CURE ILLS, SAYS PRES. HARDING

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Alexander Hamilton's conception of financial integrity and the sanction of obligation was invoked as a remedy for present world conditions by President Harding in an address yesterday at the unveiling here of a statue of the first secretary of the treasury.

Such principles as Hamilton lived by, combined with a "leadership which rises above prejudiced opinion, has its beginnings in war or is emphasized by geographic division," the president declared, "would turn humanity to the rational and only way of restoration."

"There will be the substitution of hope and resolution, where hatred and resentment are now blinding recovery," he added. "There will be less thought of yesterday and more of tomorrow."

of Hamilton's service in putting "the seal of sanctity upon the financial honor of the American republic." He stressed "the rugged honesty of this patriot statesman, because honesty will cure the ills of today," and asserted that "honesty among nations will dissolve their differences so that now and lasting friendships may be bound by the ties of fraternity and mutual trust."

"Honesty of leadership will spare us the popular misconceptions which are ever-mingling to democracy," he continued. "Honesty in statecraft will point the way to impregnable heights."

The president deplored the display of factionalism, and pointed to the "enormously inspired fear of factionalism," held by Hamilton who, he said, "fought it in the making and warned us of today against its development." Despite this warning, Mr. Harding said, factions have arisen which would invade the constitutional rights of others or subvert the constitution itself.

NEW MANAGEMENT AT VICTORIA ART SHOP

The Victoria Art Shop in the Monahan building, formerly owned by Miss Lena Bellehumeur has been purchased by the Richards sisters and will be known as the Richards Art Shop.

Miss Evelyn Richards was formerly with the French Specialty Shop, previous to that was with H. H. Sturges Co. of Boston and in well up on merchandise and salesmanship.

Miss Beatrice Richards was previously connected with the Needlecraft Shop for seven years and is an expert on needlework.

DOUBLE GUARD OVER CLARA PHILLIPS

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 18.—Police officials assert that they have intercepted correspondence from the woman held as Clara Phillips, the California murderess to persons of unknown identity offering large sums of money, if they should assist the prisoner in escaping from jail here.

As a result, the authorities have doubled their vigilance over the woman and have decided that she may have no visitors.

The police also say they have information that two persons have left Tegucigalpa for Honduras, with the object of assisting the prisoner to escape.

A young seedling apple tree does not bear fruit for four or five years.

FRENCH AMERICAN REPUBLICAN CLUB

The annual meeting of the French-American Republican club of Massachusetts was held at the American house in Boston yesterday afternoon and present were numerous members from this city and other points of the state.

The meeting was presided over by President Ernest Laroque, a state representative, whose home is in Fall River, and a feature of the meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Representative Henri Achin, Lowell, president; J. Omer Smith, Lowell; Alfred Liberge, Lynn, and Louis Chaplin, Fall River, vice presidents; Representative Ernest Laroque, Fall River, secretary-treasurer; Hon. Felix Guineau, Southbridge; George Brunelle, Webster; Fred Hamelin, Lynn; Louis Deschamps, Fitchburg; Representative Chauncey Peplin, Salem; Louis Lemay, North Attleboro and Leo Senecal, Chicopee, executive board.

Considerable business pertaining to the organization was transacted and it was voted to hold the election of officers biennially instead of annually as heretofore. At the close of the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

TOBACCO MEN PROTEST

Declare Drug Stores Cut Prices on Tobacco to Increase Sales and Obtain Greater Allowance of Liquor

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Tobacco Merchants' association charged in its convention here that certain wholesale druggists were cutting prices on tobacco products to increase their sales and obtain greater allowances of medicinal liquor.

The resolution was adopted asking the treasury department to eliminate cigars and cigarettes from the "bona fide drug business" sales which control the quantity of liquor a druggist may handle.

will be shown after the 75th parallel
has been passed. If the course continues persistently northward, it will tend to confirm Amundsen's theory of gravitation toward the pole and that point may ultimately be reached even though the Maud may circumnavigate
it entirely before reaching it.
If the angle flattens out and becomes a more western course, the like-hood will appear to be that the polar pack is grounded and stationary and the pole never will be reached by the Amundsen party.
The movements recorded during the next six months probably will forecast
the result.

Instant relief from CORNS without risk of infection

Safe! You can get the pain of corns in one minute. The Scholl's Zino-pads will do it. For they remove the cause—friction—pressure, and soothe the irritation. Thus you avoid all the danger of cutting corns out with a knife. They are made of a soft, non-irritating material. They are waterproof.
Keep them in your pocket or your dressing case for all the corns you may get.

ADMISSION TO HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Headmaster Henry B. Harris, of the high school, has received a notice from the committee on admission to Harvard university that is revolutionary as regards high school students entering college.

Under the plan outlined in this notice, any one of the first seventh of the graduating class of high schools such as Lowell's, is eligible to enter Harvard university without taking the usual entrance examination. Provided that the headmaster of the school will recommend him. They also state that this is just an experiment and that the records of any students entering the college under this rule will be scrutinized carefully so that the committee may modify this rule for the next year if such modification is necessary. As a uniform basis for making this entrance qualification, the two last years' records of a student, the junior and senior years, will be the only ones that will count.

Under the latter part of this qualification a student who plans on going to Harvard college may have very unsatisfactory records during his first two years in school, but as long as he is one of the first seventh in rank for his last two years, he may enter the college without taking an examination.

In speaking of this new ruling, Mr. Harris stated that before any student of the first seventh who wished to enter Harvard without taking an examination received a recommendation from him, he would have to have proved that he has the character and ability to be a credit to the school and to get through his college subjects without flunking and thereby disgracing the high school.

Another new ruling by the committee on admission to Harvard is that, beginning next June, no candidate will be allowed to enter the school who fails to pass the test in English com-

PAINS IN BACK?

Listen to What Mr. McCay Says About It.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"For several years I had been subject to severe pains in my back, which often became so intense that I was compelled to cease work for days at a time. I could hardly walk. I feared I was about to lose my health or experience a general breakdown. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets on Saturday night and in less than twenty-four hours all trace of pain had completely gone, and although ten weeks have now elapsed I have never felt the slightest return of the pain. I will be pleased to recommend Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets to any one whose condition may be similar."—Henry McCay, 140 Milton st., (Greenpoint). Write to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free confidential medical advice.—Adv.

position except those to whom the English language is not native. This ruling shows that while the committee is willing to experiment with high school students who rank high by allowing them to enter without taking any examination, others who take the examination will have to "toe the mark" a little better than they have in the past.

LAKEVIEW OPENS FOR THE SEASON

With all facilities of the modern summer recreation resort, Lakeview opened for the season last night, with a crowd of 1000 to 5000 out to enjoy life out-of-doors. Fully 500 automobiles were parked in and about the place. From the Willow Dale entrance almost to Tray Rock, where Lakeview road takes an abrupt turn towards Mountain Rock, the space was filled with machines and electric cars arriving at periods of from three to five minutes.

The dance hall was perhaps the most popular of the many things the crowd found at Lakeview. Hundreds of incandescent lights make the place as light as day and from Lake Muscupple's waters the picture is one to be remembered. The floor surface is 7200 sq. ft. and 1000 people may dance at one time without crowding. The orchestra, Mr. Dwyer's organization of 10 pieces, is conducted by Prof. Barnes, one of the best in his line available anywhere. Behind the orchestra and overhead are sound boards that amplify and distribute the music.

DISABLED VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR

Chairman Charles Collins of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, in charge of the campaign to solicit donations and advertisements to help finance the third convention of the organization to be held here May 26, 26 and 27, states that the finance committee has collected $850 of the necessary $1000, needed to finance the convention.

Edward Sullivan, Charles Collins, William Quinn, William Traversa and James McCormick have been appointed by Commander Dodge, of the Lowell Disabled Veterans, as a reception committee, to look after the needs of the 200 delegates who will assemble here from all parts of the state.

There will be a general committee meeting of veterans tonight at the home of Charles Collins, 38 Bartlett street. Plans for the Memorial day program and the convention will be discussed. The organization states that it has accepted the invitation of the G.A.R. to take part in the Memorial day parade.

MANY ENLISTMENTS FOR THE ARMY

Sergeant T. J. Kimball is feeling quite enthused as a result of his progress in getting enlistments for the army, during the present week, in the Lowell area. Since the increase in pay granted mill employees, the sergeant has had trouble in persuading qualified men to enter the service, but "I can see a break in regard to enlisting in the army," said the sergeant, who is much pleased with his prospects.

Opportunities for travel and non-commissioned berths, never before offered in the army, are now open for men with the necessary qualities and resources the sergeant. Men are wanted in every branch of the service, for the Pacific coast, Hawaii, the Panama Canal Zone, Georgia and West Point, N. Y. The latter outfit, the personal escort to the president, has vacancies open. Medical men and bandmen are desired. Non-commissioned berths are open in both of these departments.

Men with grammar and high school education are qualified for entrance into trade schools and special branches of the service. Enlistment is for a

WAS FINED $200 IN LIQUOR CASE

Adam Lapniewski of Forge Village, arrested by Federal Agents Sullivan and Hall on the night of May 15 after he had contracted with the officers for the sale of a pint of liquor, was fined $200 in the superior court by Judge Morris yesterday. Lapniewski refused to be brought to the district court, evidently thinking that the higher court would extend leniency. He appeared first before U. S. Commissioner Hayes and waived examination in exactly 35 minutes' time, the shortest on record for such cases, he was brought before the superior court justice and the stiff fine imposed.

The day previous, John Roehman, proprietor of an establishment at 103 Broadway, Lawrence, and Frank McDermott, of 10 Essex street, Lawrence, both of whom were arrested by Agents Sullivan and Hall, were fined $200 each.

South Ends Rally after Bad Start and Win Thriller from Centralvilles

GARRISON FINISH GIVES SOUTH ENDS VICTORY OVER CENTRALVILLES

Catcher Riley Comes Through With Crashing Triple Scoring Two Men and Then Coming Home on Overthrow, Giving Boys From Common 6 to 4 Victory—George Tyler and Falls Also Hit Well for Winners—"Billy It" McMahon Batting Star for Centralvilles

Catcher Riley's triple for the South Ends in the fifth inning, following Poulton's passes to Falls and Davis, changed the complexion of the game, at the South common last night, which resulted in a 6 to 4 victory for the South End club. Centralville took the lead in the first inning by scoring four runs, apparently enough to win the old ball game, but lucky luck shifted her attention in the closing seconds and the runners came through with a hard won decision.

Francis Reagan, the 18-year-old youngster took up the mound assignment for the South Ends. His debut in the first frame was rather inauspicious, as Allen the first striker drew a pass, and moved him along to the middle station with a neat sacrifice. Buckley ceased another pass from the hard working youngster, but he was trying to put too much stuff on the horse. The veteran campaigner, "Billy It" McMahon, husky and determined, followed V. Foye, who whiffed at the plate. With two down and the count against him, McMahon crashed the ball into deep left field, and made second, the runners scoring. A fast runner would have easily made a triple on the crash, which sailed out of the lot, on the line. H. Foye followed with a Texas leaguer into left and Meyer cleared the third straight hit into the same territory, cleaning the sacks. He was cut down trying to enter second, by the sure peg from Riley.

Reagan looked tough in the first inning, but his manager had confidence in his ability to stand the gauntlet and he kept him on the mound. Judging from the results of the following innings he called the term to perfection, as he allowed only three hits in a game, and never more than one to a stanza. Poulton looked like the professional million dollars in the first inning of the game for the Centralville team, but the exchange value of dollars slumped as the game progressed. Only three batters faced the Centralville leaver in the opening half of the first.

Brownman started the second for the Centralville team with a smash into deep center, but A. Jenkins was on with the crack of the bat, and when the ball came down, it landed in his clutches. The catch was a real gem, Jenkins turned in two other hot catching catches that cut short leading rallies in the fourth and sixth innings. The South Ends, with the lead of the first inning, in the third, pulled for a break, and it came quickly. A. Jenkins pulled a pass, and George Tyler, the ex-braves pitcher, playing the initial sack for the winners, came through with a clutch second base hit. Jenkins, with the stage set for a clean-up, fell down the strike out chute. Falls lifted the ball with a crash into deep center, and runners advanced. Davis, the high school player, drew a pass, but Kline's quick bat with a white.

The two run break added the necessary punch at this stage of the contest to make it interesting. The South Ends realizing that Poulton was far from being ended, started the last of the third with confidence oozing from every player. McMahon again started the fireworks, scoring his second double into left field, the bases, however were empty and two were down when the drive came and as R. Foye went for a home run, the hit went for nothing. Tyler made a great stop of the hard hit ball, getting his man by inches at first, clearing the bases by throwing, and grounding several hard hit rounders. He also came across with two hits in his four chances.

Riley drew a pass in the fourth and stole second, standing up Reagan fanned the breeze and A. Jenkins fell out to back up in center field. Shorty Poe struck out, but the catcher missed the third strike and he received a life. Tyler stepped to the plate and dropped a Texas leaguer into left field, scoring Riley, the third run for the winners.

Reagan had the Centralville representative cutting out of his head in the last three frames. The batter the same progressed the latter he traveled. Riley, smothered the fire, and in the fifth, with his club into right field, following two passes, which netted him a triple. He made the clutch throw to get him at third went into the crowd. The crash broke the hump of the Centralville center. The boys coming like a bolt of lightning from the sky, changed defeat into players and the crowd, who requested her to hurry.

The ups and downs of the pitcher was again shown in twilight baseball. Young Reagan allowed four runs in the first inning. Many in the crowd thought that he would never get through the opening frame, but he came back and won his game. Poulton with a four run lead, gradually slipped and lost his game in the fifth, when Calhoun Riley swung against a fast one, hitting it into the depths of right field for an accredited triple. He scored as the throw to get him at third went into the crowd. Riley puffing like a steam engine, climbing a steep grade, dropped to the ground after making the circuit of the bases.

It is reported that the Broadways will have several new players in the lineup against the Y.M.C.A. team tonight.

Brownman, a candidate for the Boston college baseball nine appeared in the Centralville lineup at third base. He accepted his one chance in the field in a manner that indicated ability. Davis, the high school youngster played a consistent game in the field at third for the winners. He accepted three hard hit chances without a flaw.

Catcher Foye, of the Centralville club, and Frank Roane, of the South Ends baseball committee, engaged in a wordy combat from the opening inning to the end of the bout. Roane argued with the players and the umpire, protesting every close decision that came up. The police guard on duty at the field was forced to move him off the playing field on one occasion in the fourth inning. Riley received a pass and Reagan took three swings at the ball. The Centralville catcher dropped the third strike, and Reagan reached first. Regulations are that the batter is out on a missed third strike, providing the first base is occupied. Reagan was called out, but Roane protested that Riley had stolen second on the play, and could not be called on occupant of first. The out was allowed, however, and Roane much disgusted at down, on the motion of the guardian of law and order.

Questions

ONE—If the pitcher in the act of delivering the ball to the batsman, accidentally strikes his leg and the ball drops to the ground, how is it regarded?

TWO—Manager substitutes a southpaw for right-handed pitcher, with a left-handed batter up. After the pitcher gets two strikes on the batter, the manager sends in a right-handed hitter. Can the manager of the team in the field then change pitchers if he so desires?

THREE—Outfielder in making a play on runner at third hits umpire with the ball, deflecting it into foul territory. Runner tries to score and is thrown out at the plate. What about it?

FIVE—In trying to get a runner at second the catcher's arm comes into contact with the umpire as he starts his throw, the ball going wild and the runner reaching third. What is the correct decision?

Answers

ONE—The fact that it is an accident is given no consideration. Such a play is ruled a balk.

TWO—A batsman can be removed at any time, but when a pitcher is sent into the game he must pitch until a batsman has either been retired or reaches first.

THREE—The ball is in play in this case, in fact, is always in play when the umpire is actually hit by a thrown ball.

FOUR—It is not necessary to make an appeal in order to have the umpire call a balk. It is up to the umpire

FREE SWINGERS DUE FOR SLOW BALL PITCHING

This is going to be a tough year on the free swingers in the major leagues.

Players who take a healthy cut at the ball, a la Babe Ruth or Bobby Veach, are certain to find it a more difficult matter to get them safe. Already Hobby Veach is doing bench duty at Detroit, presumably for inability to hit consistently. While Ruth will hardly be benched, it is a cinch he will find the pitchers much more difficult to solve this year.

The great success attained by the pitchers of the New York Giants in slowing up on Ruth has caused the American twirlers to adopt such tactics in pitching to the big fellow. Low and outside, with plenty of half speed and slow balls, is the diet that Ruth is being fed on.

Not only is this practice being employed on the veterans but recruit pitchers as well. In the American League last season Goslin of the Washington club and Hauser of the Athletics made much trouble for the pitchers.

Both Goslin and Hauser are left swingers, who are known as free swingers, hitters who take the same healthy cut at a slow one as a fast ball. This spring the pitchers have been slowing up on both these youngsters with much success. Neither takes kindly to the slow ball or change of pace.

The lively ball has made it necessary for pitchers to take fewer chances with the free swingers. The slowing up process seems to solve the solution.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Tonight—Y.M.C.A. vs. Broadways.

George Tyler played a whole of a game at the initial sack for the winners. George, if he could maintain the hitting pace in the majors, would stick as a first baseman. He made ground above the ball into the groove before he offered to swing. The finished batsman very seldom offers at the first ball pitched, and many times misses the second even though such are strikes. It takes confidence to stand by and hear the umpire calling strikes. Generally these batters come through in their own swing against the ball. Tyler proved it.

The crowd the largest of the season, and the benches to capacity. It is estimated that over 2000 people watched the proceedings and very few of the spectators left before the game was called. Coming from behind and winning the decision is one of the unexpected factors in baseball that makes the game interesting.

The game was temporary, halted in the third inning with one down and the South Ends hitting with a woman teaming a home run, sauntered casually along the walk, which cuts through the playing field, back of the infield. She kept a steady pace along the route despite the entreaties of the

LAWLOR WINS OVER WAGNER

Omaha Battler Lands Award Over Philadelphian in Fast Ten-Round Battle

Jack Lawlor of Omaha triumphed over Eddie "Kid" Wagner, of Philadelphia, recent conqueror of Law Pals, in a sensational battle over the ten round route at the Moody club show in the Crescent rink last night.

The bout was a pugilistic treat in which two of the speediest and most scientific boys of their weight ever seen in this vicinity had at it. Lawlor, the dancing master, the straight and heavy hitter, excelled at long range work, while Wagner showed unusual class at in-fighting and proved a fine general of a much order.

The battle opened up with both feeling the other out, watching for an opening, and grasping every opportunity for a hit. Lawlor used a crashing left with good effect, while Wagner depended more on scoring while on the inside. As the bout wore on it speeded up materially, and Lawlor's success was due to the fact that he had the faculty of beating his opponent to the punch.

The first two rounds, while fast and replete with strenuous endeavor, were fairly even in the fourth Lawlor started to forge to the front. In this session the pair battled furiously. Lawlor apparently looked in a clinch. Wagner began to pump punches into Lawlor's mid-riff with photon-rapid and Lawlor's mid-riff with photon-rapid and Lawlor's mid-riff with photon-rapid.

Lawlor and him at his own game, and they exchanged punches from one side of the ring to the other. It was a hurricane session with Lawlor's left jabbing the edge. In the sixth and seventh there was a repetition of the left-to-toe battling, Lawlor showing the way, but Wagner giving him a stiff argument. The succeeding rounds could both displaying brilliant wares, with the tenth proving a most thrilling three minutes of action.

While both scored many heavy blows during the battle, Lawlor particularly shaking up Wagner with a one left and an equally effective right cross, and the Philadelphian rimping up some stinging punches to the head, neither bore a mark of combat, and both left the ring without any signs of distress. It was a skillful battle between two well matched and well trained performers. The decision to Lawlor was the proper one.

In the semi-final scheduled for eight rounds Jimmy Stuart of New York won "two decisions" over Young Vandy of Lawrence. Near the end of the first round Stuart sent Vandy to the floor, after having dropped him earlier in the round. Referee Flaherty pointed to Stuart in token of victory. He left the ring. A howl went up and in the confusion and consultation that followed, the referee decided to allow them to continue. Stuart was called back from his dressing room. He gladly responded, yet he could have justifiably refused to continue. Stuart proved a fighter of unusual hitting abilities and a "bear" for taking a couple to get one over. He held his head out, unprotected, to give his opponent a chance to hit him. Vandy did let go a number of good blows, but in the third Stuart decided it was time to quit. He left the ring and he went Vandy down and out.

Buddy Dolan and Young Banks, both of Lawrence, met in the opening preliminary. It was a well contested battle and went the limit, six rounds to a decision for Dolan.

In the second preliminary Andy Martin of Roxbury won over Johnny Boland of Lynn in six rounds.

It was announced that Phiney Boye and Johnny Avila, local rivals, will meet in the main event next Thursday night.

M. I. T. AND B. C. ARE FAVORITES IN MEET

CAMBRIDGE, May 18.—The annual battle for supremacy in track and field athletics among the member colleges of the New England Intercollegiate athletic association will open this afternoon with the trial events which will reduce the list of almost 900 athletes to finalists in the 16 events on the program for Saturday.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Boston college, joint holders of the championship as a result of last year's de, are looked upon as favorites, with M.I.T. regarded as having the better balanced team. Bowdoin also is believed to have a real chance to win.

Other colleges which will be represented are: Amherst, Bates, Boston University, Brown, Colby, Holy Cross, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Middlebury, New Hampshire college, University of Maine, University of Vermont, Wesleyan, Williams and Worcester Polytechnic.

St. athletes who won first places in the 1922 meet will compete again today, while eight runner-ups on last year's events also will be on hand. The results in the trials will determine the list of events and 16 colleges have named 54 entrants.

LAWRENCE DEFEATS ABBOT WORSTED NINE

The Lawrence Independents defeated the Abbot Worsted nine of Graniteville by the score of 5 to 2 at O'Sullivan park, Lawrence, last evening.

Scoring four runs in the first three innings, the Lawrenceans took a lead which was not denied until the seventh when two Abbot runners crossed the plate. The game was called in the eighth on account of darkness.

Lawrence was on the mound for the Abbot and while he struck out 11 men, he issued three passes which proved fatal. He was opposed by Davies, whose effectiveness in the pinches, pulled him out of a few tight holes. The longest hit of the game was pulled by Nash, hit the independent when he hit for three bases in the third with two runners on the bases. The score:

CARDS MOVE TO SECOND PLACE

St. Louis Team Looks Like Most Formidable Foe of Giants at Present Stage

NEW YORK, May 18.—Branch Rickey's St. Louis Cardinals, having won edges over both the Philadelphia and Boston clubs, thereby displacing the Pittsburgh Pirates in second place in the National league, appear today as the strongest team in the New York Giants will have to face in the first part of the season.

Rogers Hornsby, the Big Bertha of the Cardinals, told off yesterday to prepare for an attack on the Giants next week, and St. Louis never missed him, battering Burleigh Grimes of Brooklyn off the ship in the seventh inning, winning 6 to 3.

Having taken but one game from the Reds, which they did yesterday, 13 to 6, it is too early to forecast how the Giants are going to fare against Grimes. But considering that the Giants have won their last three games, last year's leading league pitcher, it is not too early to forecast how the McGrawites will not be greatly hampered.

The Giants take on the Cardinals after the Reds leave.

Rudolph Stages "Comeback"
Pittsburgh kept on the toboggan, when Jack Rudolph came out of retirement and pitched the Boston Braves to a sensational 10-inning victory in a pitching duel, 1 to 0. His comeback lifted the Braves to a tie with the Reds for second division leadership and to within one point of fourth place. If the Braves and Boston both win again today the Braves will be on the heels of the Cardinals tonight.

The Chicago Cubs battered the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 4.

Both New York and Philadelphia continued their breath-taking par-

LOWELL TEXTILE WILL MEET WORCESTER

Lowell Textile goes to Worcester tomorrow afternoon for a game with the first nine representing Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Although the local team has experienced a poor season thus far, the boys intend to go through with the remainder of the schedule in class fashion. Worcester Tech is a team to be counted with as it possesses a star shortstopman in Curran who has been hitting opponents to one and three hits per game this season. Textile batters will endeavor to put a stop to his sensational delivery.

It is probable that Coach "Doc" Ganley will start Claude Farwell in the box against the engineers. Claude's arm is reported as being in tip-top shape at present and opponents will back him up.

Next Wednesday afternoon Textile takes a trip to University Heights, Newton, for a clash with the fast-moving Boston college outfit, which has yet to meet defeat and which yesterday entered its eighth consecutive win of the season. Having subdued B. C.'s greatest rival, Holy Cross, Textile is anxious to administer a similar dose to the muzzies and gold. Ray Farwell is being groomed to serve 'em up to the Eagles and if he is in condition, the records may show a defeat for the Newton collegians. A large crowd of local rooters will accompany Textile's squad to the Boston suburb to take in the game.

performances in the American league. The Yanks assumed Urban Shocker of St. Louis as though he were a recruit, 3 to 2, and the Athletics, showing contempt for the veteran club of Cleveland, won 4 to 2. Babe Ruth got his fifth home run of the season.

Leahy took a crack at the weak-kneed Boston Red Sox in the opening tilt of their series, 6 to 2. Washington, dominating the Athletics, pointed out the Chicago White Sox, in 10 innings, 3 to 2, and came within an ace of overstepping the slipping Browns.

The Delvidero Semblers defeated the Triunfo nine at Shedd park last evening. Welch's pitching featured for the winners. The Semblers claim the 12-13-year-old championship of the city. For games, call 415-W and ask for "Joe."

Although Maylan of the Ramblers allowed but four hits while his teammates were making Sullivan of the Ramblers for 11 innings, the Ramblers were tossed out by the Builders by the score of 3 to 1 yesterday.

The Glensboro despite the claim of the Textile Juniors as champions, and would like to arrange a game for June 2 at the South common to settle the question of supremacy. If this challenge is acceptable to the Juniors, they are requested to answer through the columns of The Sun before Monday. The Glensboro have won all their starts this season. Saturday they engage with Rochester and Sunday they meet the Frutiger Juniors.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

"Giddyup, there! Giddyup!" Jack Daw raced along, astride a broomstick, and shouted loudly, as Flip barked and snapped at the dragging broom. Each time the dog came close Jack would jump the broom into the air and give Flip a scare. And then Jack stopped short, as a wee voice said, "Whoo!"

"Who's telling me to 'whoa'?" shouted Jack, as he looked about him. And in answer, a happy looking little mite of a man hopped out of a nearby bush. "Why don't you take a regular ride on a regular horse?" asked this little fellow. "Oh, I'd like to very much," said Jack, "but I haven't a horse."

"Ho, ho, ho," laughed the man. "You haven't a horse, huh? Well, I'll get you one and we'll ride together on the finest trip you've ever had." And instantly he clapped his hands and out of nowhere appeared a fine horse. "Hop on," shouted the little fellow, "and away we'll go." (Continued.)

EIGHTY YEARS YOUNG MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

Dean of Lowell Insurance Men Reaches 80th Year and Still Vigorous

James Sykes, dean of Lowell insurance men and for the past 22 years connected with the local division of the John Hancock Co., today touched the 80th milestone of a fruitful life. Years have not exacted their toll as so often is the case when an active man reaches the age of four score and Mr. Sykes today seems every bit as rugged as he did 25 years ago.

When the late and much loved Rev. John M. Greene, D.D., observed his 80th birthday anniversary, a friend asked concerning his health.

"I feel much stronger today than 50 years ago," was the venerable minister's reply and if the same question were asked of James Sykes today he might easily answer that he feels just as young and strong as when at the height of matured manhood.

There is real substantiation to the statement that Mr. Sykes is dean of the insurance profession. It was in 1850, or 45 years ago, that he became associated with the Metropolitan Life, remaining with that company ten years, eight years as an agent and two years as an assistant superintendent. In April, 1901, he went with the John Hancock and has been an active agent with that company ever since. Today he is personally looking after more than 1400 accounts.

Even as early as Wednesday of this week, in anticipation of his approaching anniversary, fellow agents in the John Hancock office, thoughtfully covered his desk with clusters of flowers and today from far and wide have come messages of congratulation and sincere expressions of friendship containing the hope of many more happy anniversaries and a continuance of rugged health.

Mr. Sykes was born in Yorkshire, England, May 18, 1843. His youthful interests were in the woolen mill and wood turning industries in the old

Organized Reserves Gets Invitation From G. A. R. Memorial Day Committee

Major E. J. Toohay, executive officer of the Organized Reserves in Lowell, has just received the following invitation from the G. A. R. Joint Memorial Day committee: "It is with pleasure that this committee extends to the Organized Reserves, 1st U. S. Army, a cordial invitation to participate in the Memorial Day parade. Should you wish to be represented on the staff of the chief marshal, will you kindly appoint two mounted aids, sending their names to Col. Charles Stevens."

After receiving this invitation, Maj. Toohay issued general orders requesting every member of the reserves to take part in this parade. The first time in the history of the Organized Reserves that this unit of the national defense has participated in any Memorial day exercise.

An excerpt from his communication follows:

"You reservists of the 25th artillery and 4th engineers should be especially proud of your organization. In only one year you have accomplished the following: Practically completely organized in officer personnel. Entered and equipped the first Organized Reserves band in America. Held the first parade and demonstration wholly in the interest of the organized reserves. You have more enlisted men in the 25th artillery than all other New England Reserve organizations combined. You are further organized than any similarly sized organization in the entire United States. You are the first organization of the Reserve ever invited to participate in a Memorial day exercise. Will you be present? Certainly."

MANY LICENSES GRANTED

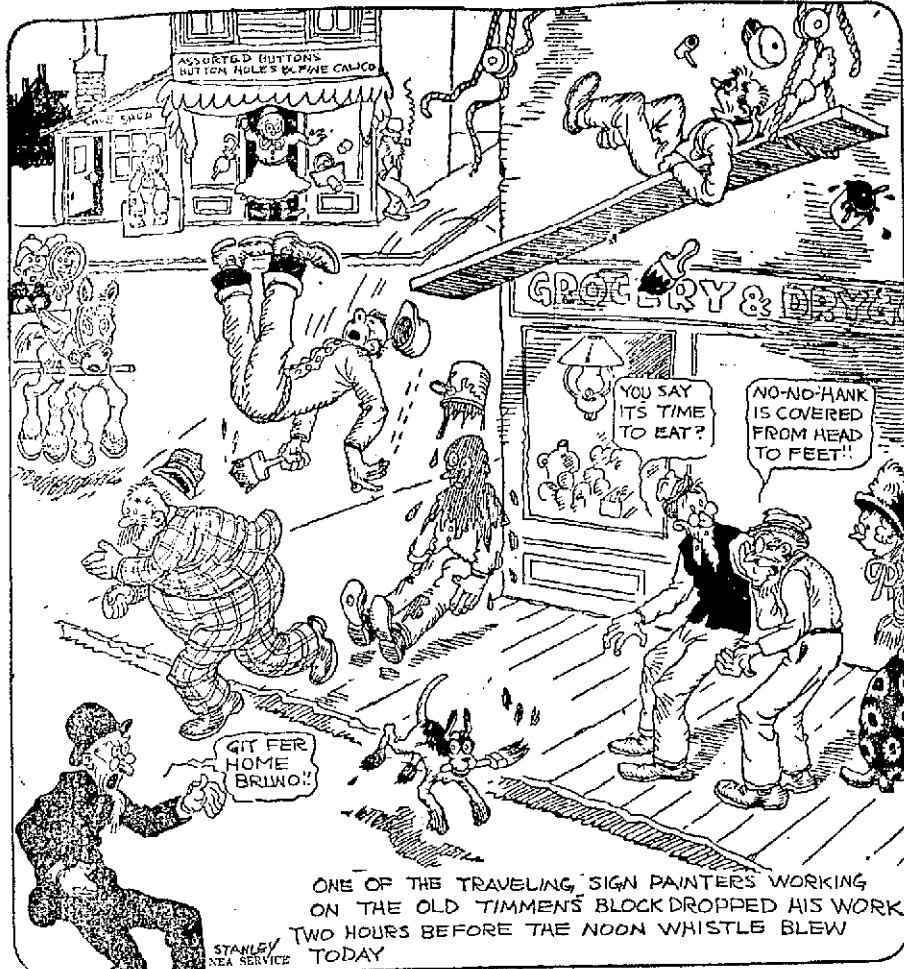

According to statistics compiled by John J. Flaherty, clerk in the office of the license commission, there were 63 licenses granted to retail vendors of soft drinks in the city of Lowell in 1922: 3 inn holders' licenses; 41 lunch carts; 33 restaurants and 42 coffee houses. Judging from the number of applications applied for and the additional number of new applications, it is evident that the present year will witness a noticeable increase.

country, which he left in 1867, settling at Lowell in May of that year. Lowell has been his home ever since. He has lived in industrial life and his religious, social and fraternal affiliations have been most pleasant. For 50 years he has lived in a house he built at 74 London street.

For 44 years Mr. Sykes has been a member of the Unit church and perhaps no other single person has shown such intense interest in its affairs. Veritably he has been a part of the church and for 25 years his services as sexton and pew agent have been invaluable. The honored title of deacon emeritus he now holds is the result of 40 years of active work as a deacon.

His only fraternal connection is membership in the Order of Old Fellows, which dates back 43 years.

Mr. Sykes has two sons, Alvin M. of this city, and Louis B. of Springfield, four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.
